Centripetal

SENIOR CLASS OF 1950
CENTRAL CATHOLIC HIGH SCHOOL
TOLEDO, OHIO

Foreword

As the pages of the 1950 Centripetal turn, Central Catholic in all its moods will pass in review. Her educational system, her faculty, her student body, and her plan to educate the "whole man" will unfold before the reader's eyes. The underclassmen will glimpse the advantages and pleasures which are theirs—to come. The seniors viewing in retrospect, the benefits they have secured, will perceive emerging from the designs, formed by the subjects perused and the activities participated in, their life's pattern. They will note that although the designs of the patterns differ, the motif—"that the soul was made for Thee, O God,"—is the same in each and they will realize that if they wish to bring the world to Christ this motif must be deepened within their own life's pattern.

Dedication

HIS HOLINESS, POPE PIUS XII

To his Holiness, Pope Pius XII, who is striving so zealously to lead "the great return of rebellious humanity to the laws of God, and the Church," we the graduates of 1950 (Holy Year graduates) dedicate this 1950 Centripetal.

Blessing of Memorial Wing

A dream, long anticipated, was realized in September, 1949, when the completed Central Catholic opened its doors to the student body. The new Memorial Wing, dedicated to the 73 Centralites who gave their lives in World War II, was solemnly blessed by his Excellency, Karl J. Alter, bishop of Toledo, October 30th. Over 5,000 people (priests, sisters, parents, and friends) witnessed the impressive ceremonies and toured the new addition.

The Student Body

This section pictures the boys and girls who have had the task of choosing, sorting, and weaving the curriculum materials into a definite pattern of life.

Seniors

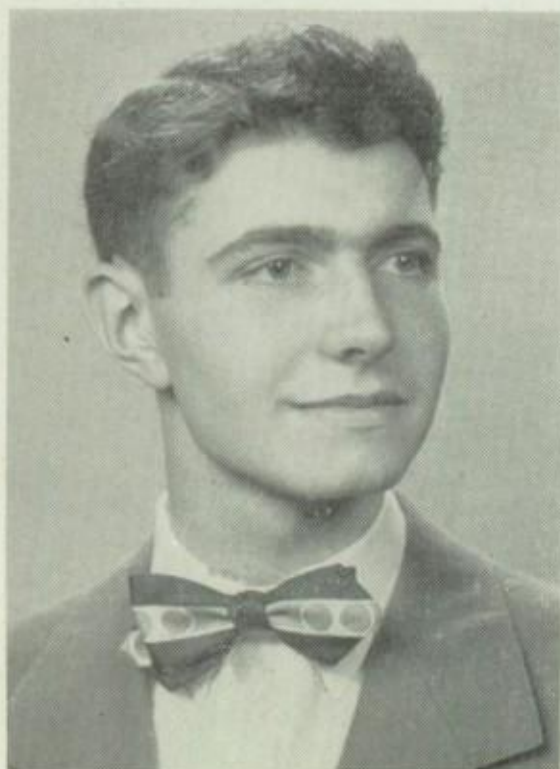

CLASS OFFICERS

Mary Ann LaPorte, secretary; Richard Hoppe, treasurer; Vivian Becker, president; James Desmond, vice president.

Before he realizes it the student finds himself in his last year of high school; the year of his graduation! Having been guided by a competent and capable faculty, he is now ready to test the strength of the threads he has woven. Upon graduating, he as a young Catholic citizen will step forth into a world steeped in materialism. If he has woven firmly into his pattern of life the principles of his faith he will carry into the fog bound sphere the Light of Lights and His way of life.

Juniors

As an upperclassman, the junior, besides weaving his own pattern of life, must set a good example to the underclassmen who respect him. In fulfilling this task, he must persevere in every undertaking, be it scholastic, social or athletic. In addition to this, he must assure the seniors that the traditions and true Central spirit will be carried on. Going hand in hand with these objectives is the fashioning of his future life on true Christian principles.

Still designing that obscure pattern of his future life, the sophomore, feeling a little more at ease, tends to drift away from serious study and to turn to the more carefree side of life. However, following the example of the upperclassmen, he soon settles down and realizes the importance of scholastic achievement. With this in mind, the second-year student begins to understand the necessity of choosing the right thread as he plans his life's pattern.

These journalistic minded sophomores proved, by their feature page in the Centric, that the seniors and juniors were not the only ones who had a verve for writing.

Freshmen

There is no comparison to the wonder and awe a freshman feels as he enters Central. His admiration for the seniors, his respect for the juniors, and his attempt to equal the sophomores, plus his consternation at the size and system of the school, leave him somewhat abashed. Although he may have outstanding scholastic ability or athletic prowess, his weave in the pattern of life is still vague and indefinite. His first year is spent in becoming acquainted with the school and in attempting to weave the curricular and extra curricular subjects into a definite design.

Classes

The pictured classrooms display the various material offered, the ways presented, and the opportunities afforded the students to interweave the courses into their designs.

Religion

Knowledge sought in reverence and love for Jesus and Mary is the keynote of Central Catholic High.

It is not only in the classroom, where the Sacraments and the Commandments, Dogma and Apologetics are formally taught, but in the whole variety of day-to-day activity, in study and recreation, that Religion, as a strong and forceful habit of mind, is implanted in the heart of each Centralite.

In the religious program daily Mass and Holy Communion are stressed as the ideal of the Catholic student. Regularly scheduled masses in the chapel, daily facilities for confession, the all-day Exposition of the Blessed Sacrament on the First Fridays, the yearly retreat, and the Senior Day of Recollection are offered to the students as aids in keeping them closer to the Hearts of Jesus and Mary.

English

The mark of an educated person is his ability to express ideas vividly and to appreciate good literature. Central's English courses are planned so that students will not lack the vital threads necessary for such an education.

While much attention is given to grammar the first three years, it is supplemented by the study of literature. The entire field of English and American Literature is covered with special emphasis on the Catholic con-contributions to the language. The non-Catholic literary masterpieces are not excluded however.

The freshman year "Robinson Crusoe" is one of the literary accomplishments that is given special attention.

The classic "Tale of Two Cities" is studied the second year.

As a junior, the English student turns out one issue of the "Centric," and learns the intricacies of research work as he writes the required formal essay.

The senior may take either literature, journalism or public speaking.

It looks good in Spanish but what does it mean?

Spanish

An understanding of our neighbors on the South is the goal of the Spanish classes. The study of their customs, and songs, which is based on the knowledge of their language such as the grammar and script, will create a greater "good-neighbor" feeling between our countries. An understanding such as this is necessary for countries so closely situated as we are.

Each Spanish student can make this feeling a thread in his later life's pattern. Even after the grammar, itself, has been forgotten a deep union will remain between the student and our Latin-American neighbors because of the knowledge obtained through the study of Spanish.

French

Education in French is a big step toward World Peace. A study of the people, their traditional customs, and their ideals will help the students understand why the French people think and act as they do. This understanding and the close feeling caused by it will help the student carry out the Christian Ideals.

The whole French course, the interesting study of the language, the singing of French songs, the magazine articles and the papers, will weave itself into the student's life like one thread woven together with many others to form a beautiful design.

David seems to have caught their interest.

Is Latin really that funny?
Stumped?

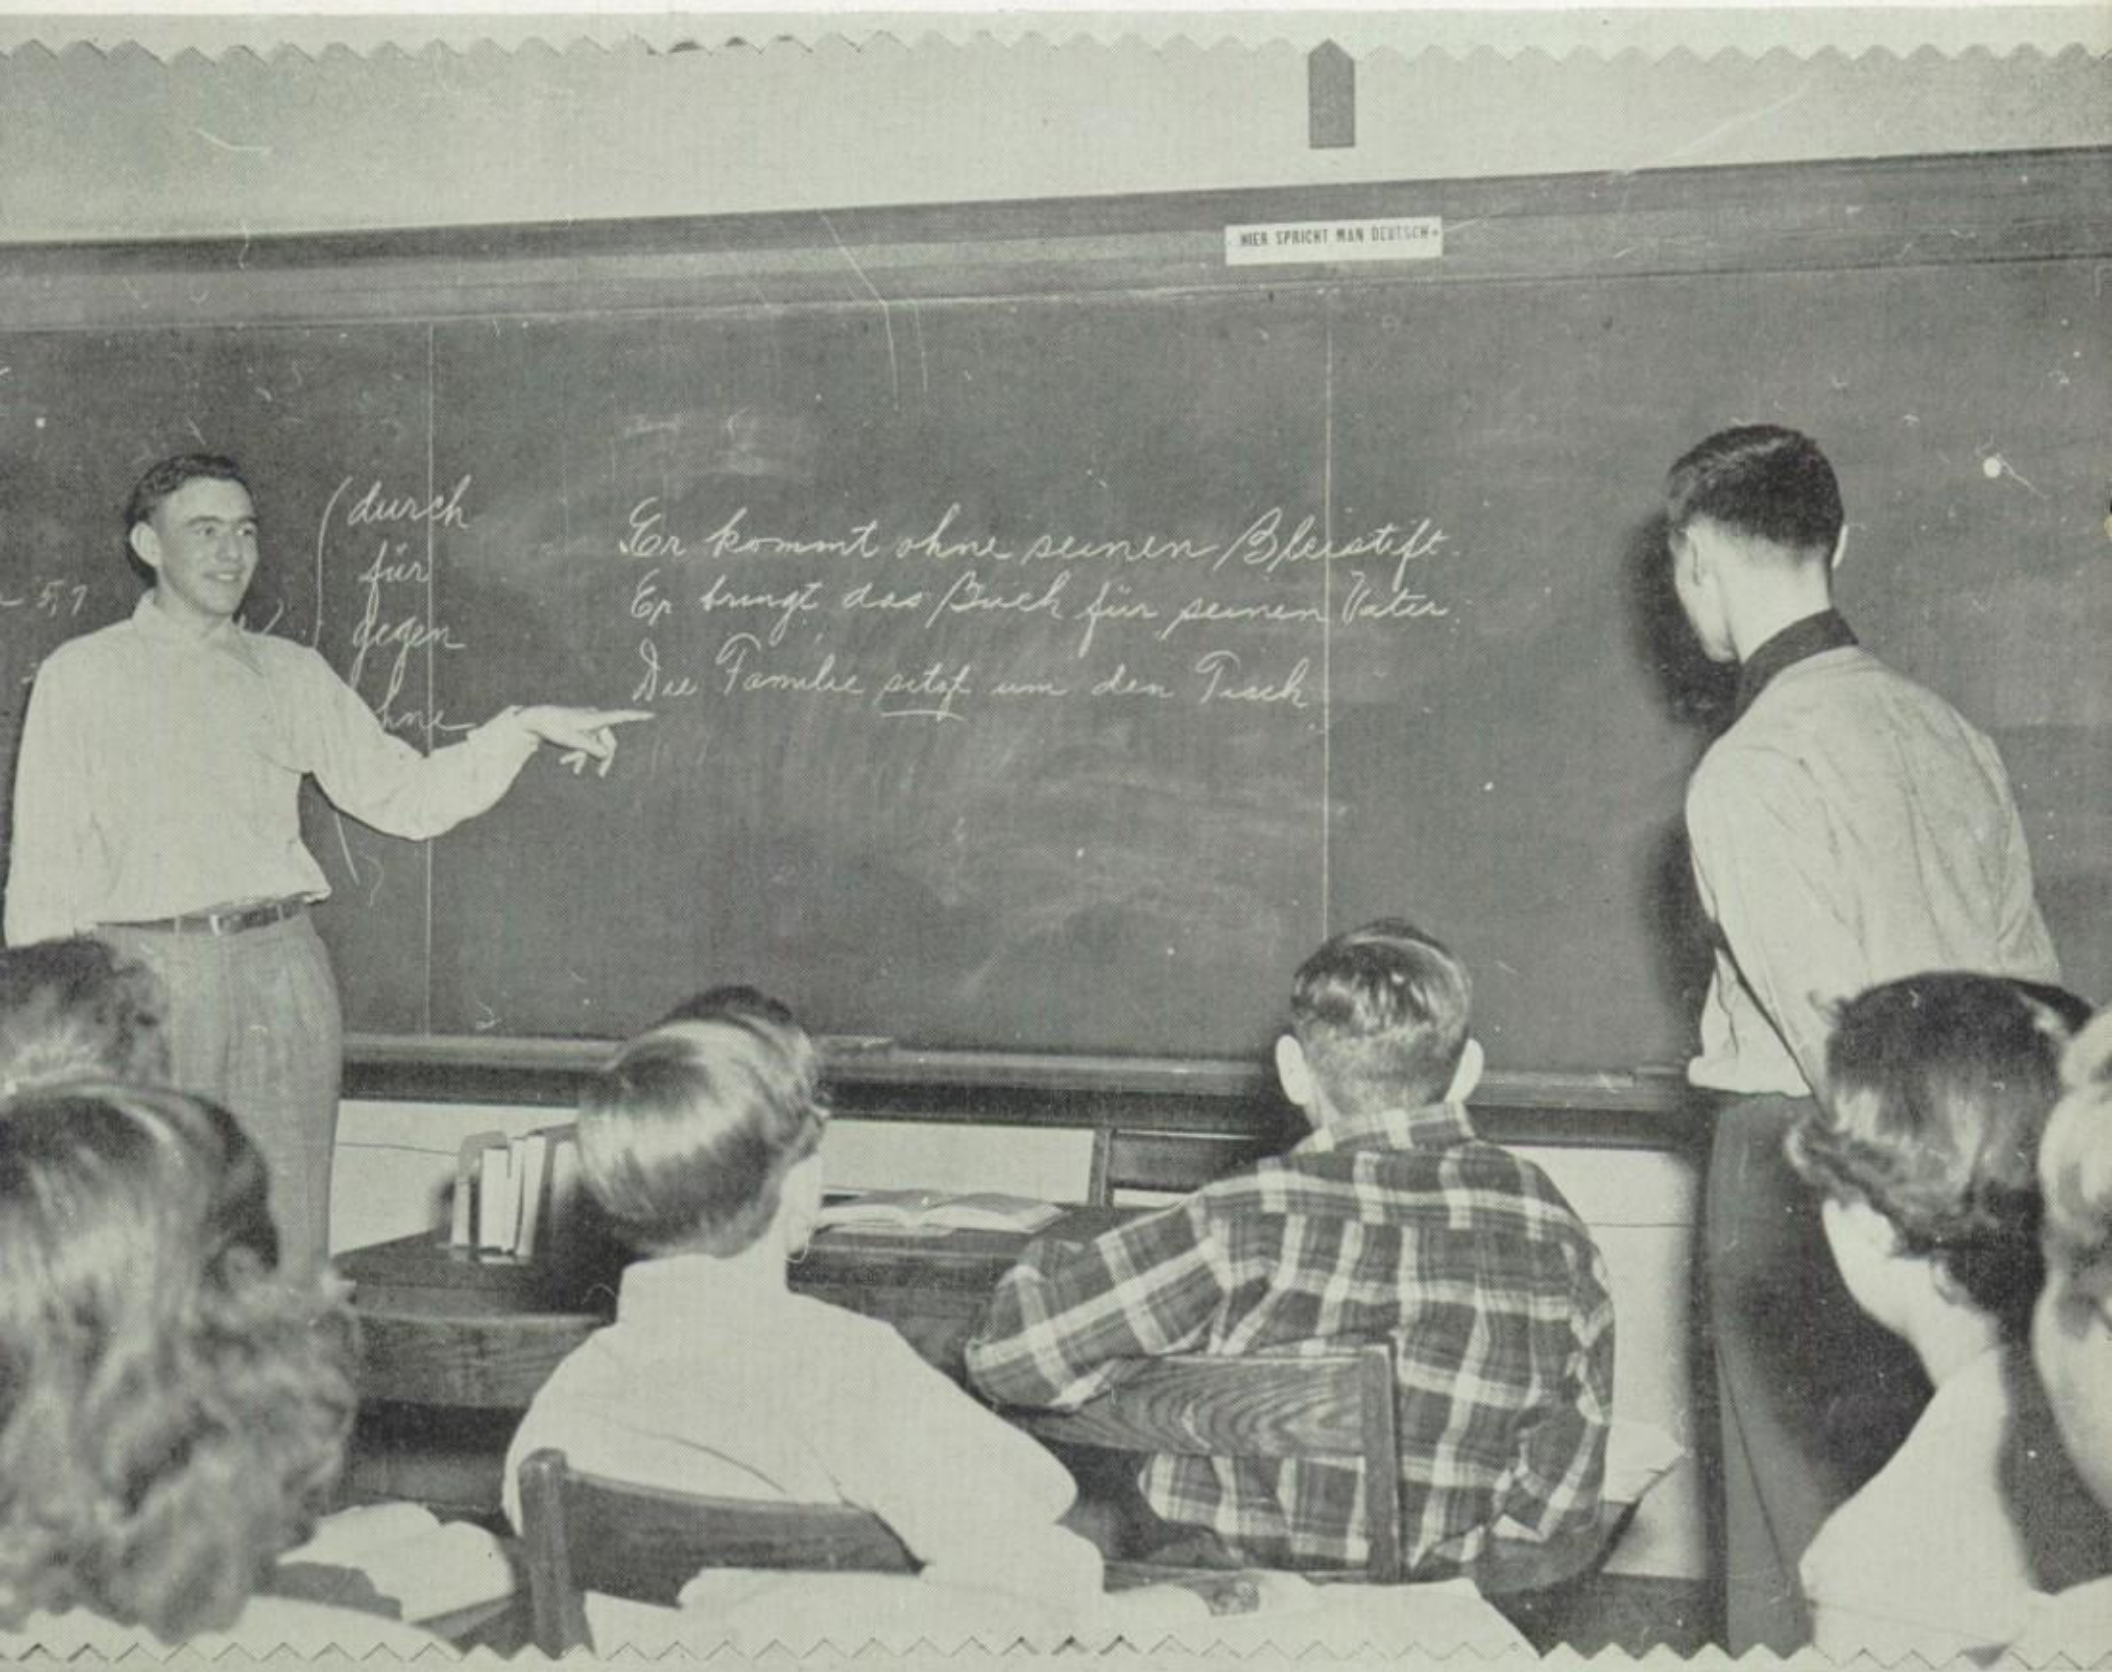

Latin

Latin a dead language?—maybe in the strict modern sense, but where would a priest, lawyer, doctor, teacher, nun, or many other professional persons be without that thread of Latin woven into their lives. Few people realize the big part that the campaigns of Caesar, the orations of Cicero, and even the Aeneid of Virgil play in the pattern of every day life. It is a fact that Latin composes nearly 50 per cent of the English language.

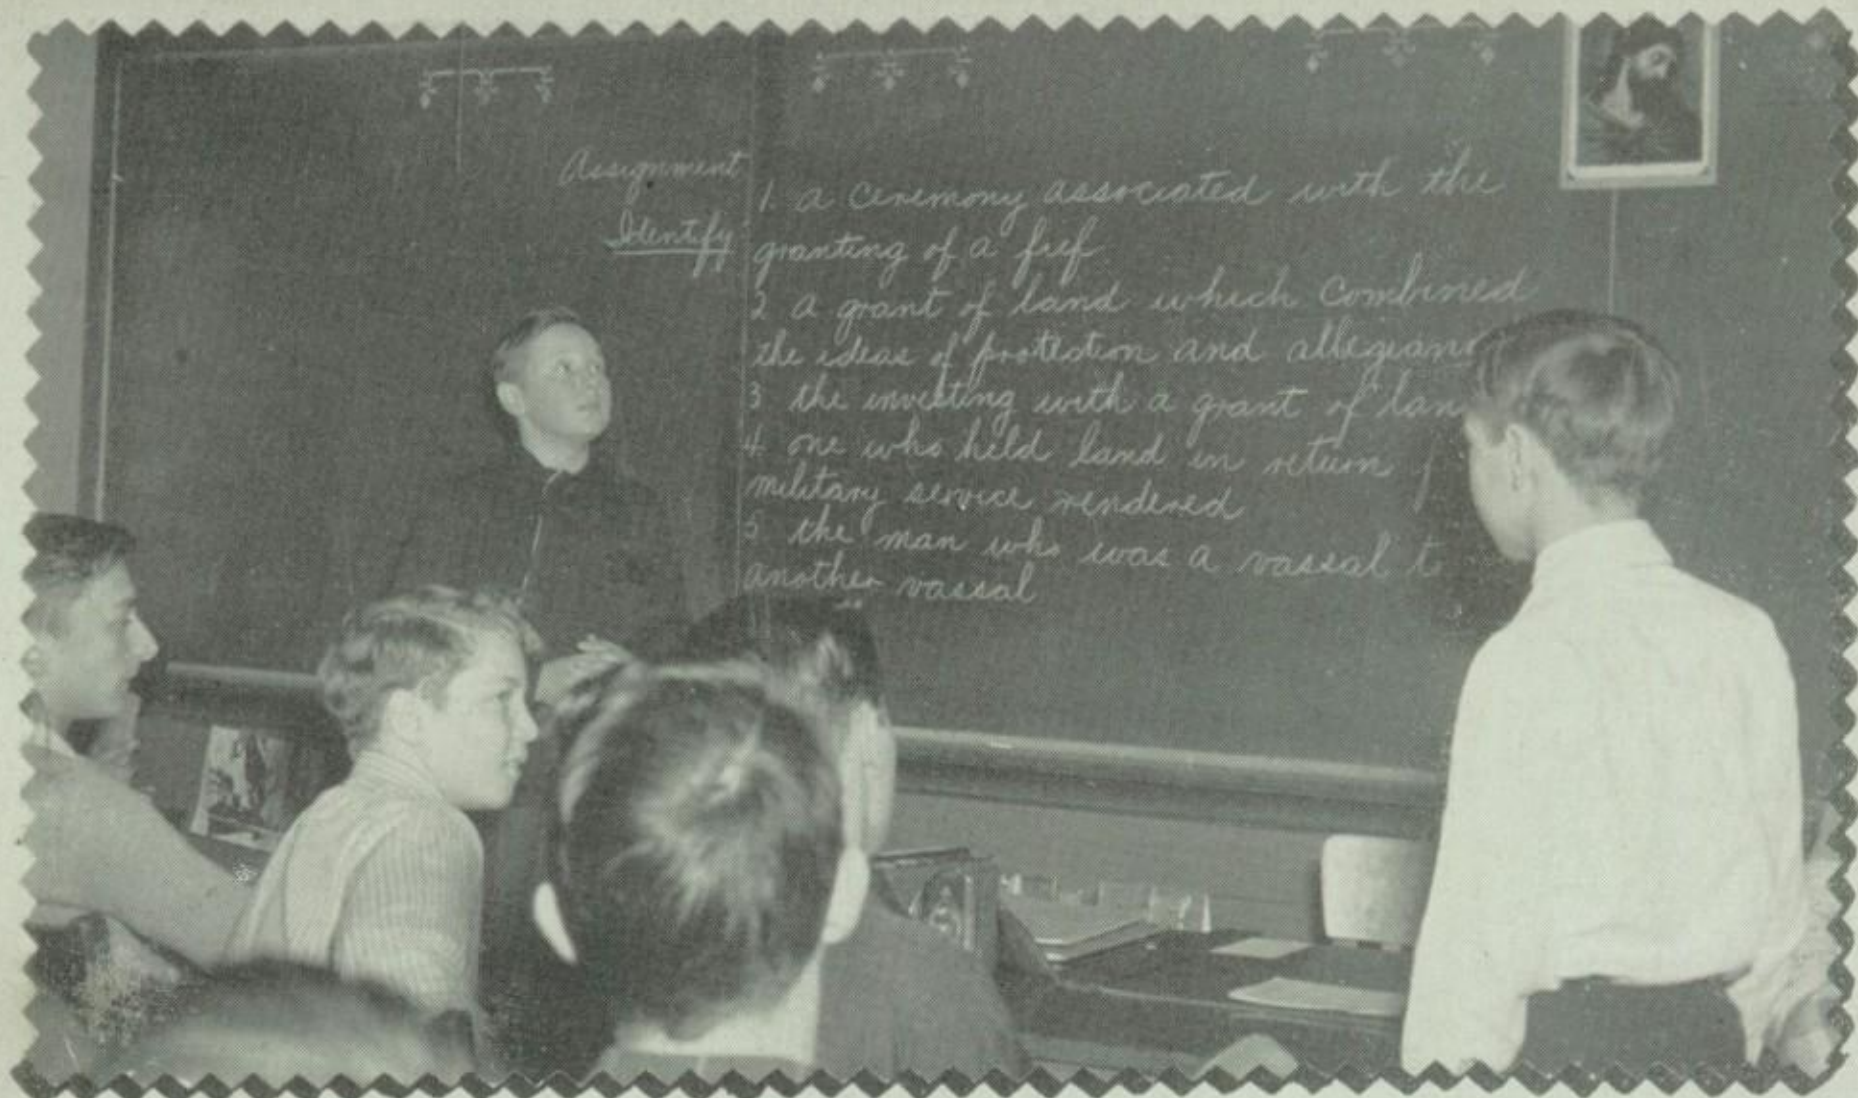

Therefore, when pursuing almost any vocation, a student could be considered neglectful to leave the important subject of Latin out of his loom in weaving the pattern of life.

German

After seven years in room 204, the German classes moved to room 217, and with them came the friendly German atmosphere that had been part of 204. Friendly because learning German means not only studying how to read, write, and speak a new language, but also studying the customs and folk life of this once great cultural nation. The famous composers, writers, musicians, and scientists of Germany, make the designs, woven in the perusal of this study, form a distinctive pattern. Since music is a basis in German temperament, many German songs and folk tunes are sung.

History

The History classes at Central have all been moved to the third floor of the new wing for the convenience of having the history material close together. The courses offered in these classes are: Ancient, Modern, American History and National Problems. All those familiarize us with the lives of illustrious men and the stories of nations, both great and small. They also teach us why some types of government have failed while others have enjoyed a great success in their pattern of government. By means of this knowledge, we are made capable of planning our lives so as to become true American citizens.

Girls' Art

Art enables one to weave a pattern of thought in the production or expression of what is beautiful.

This department offers a complete four year course aiming to suit the interest of each student in this field.

It gives experience in designing and interior decoration, color theory, drawing, dress designing, sketching, lettering, art of modeling, application of theatrical makeup, poster work, pen and ink sketching and clay modeling.

A special feature in this year's program was the designing and painting of the scenes for the Senior class play, "Remember the Day."

This course makes one realize the true beauty and art used in everyday life.

R. La Jeunesse, S. Christel, V. Mominee, M. Wenzel, V. Poullauf, L. Krause, J. Dye, D. Case view the finished products.

What's so funny, Chuck?

Ambitious, aren't they?

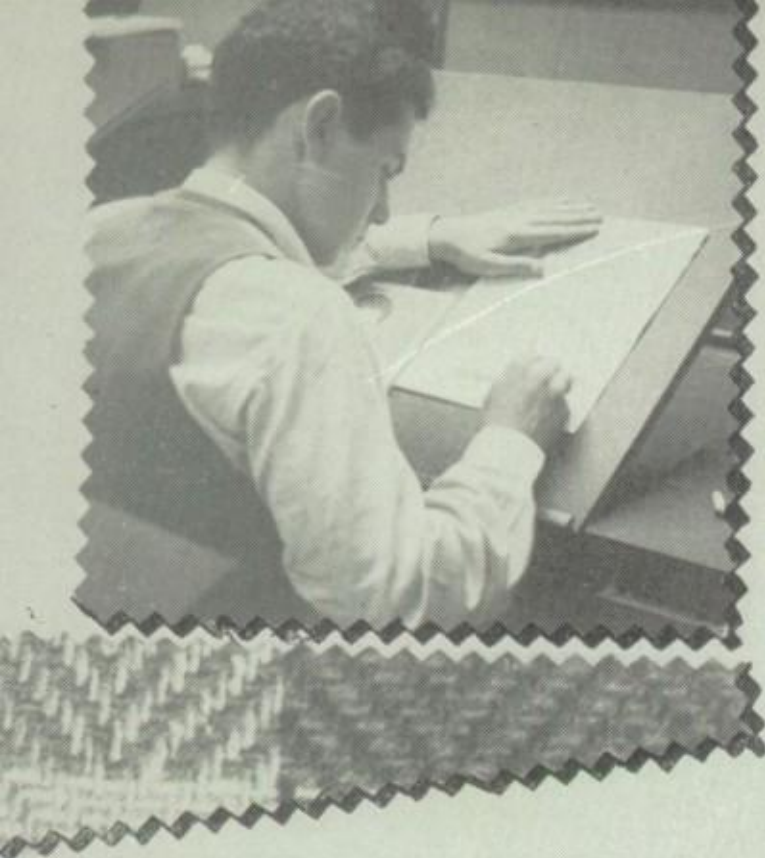

The supervisor looks it over.

Boys' Art

This course weaves its thread into the hearts of many boys as it offers experience and knowledge in oil paintings, pastels, pen and ink, and water colors.

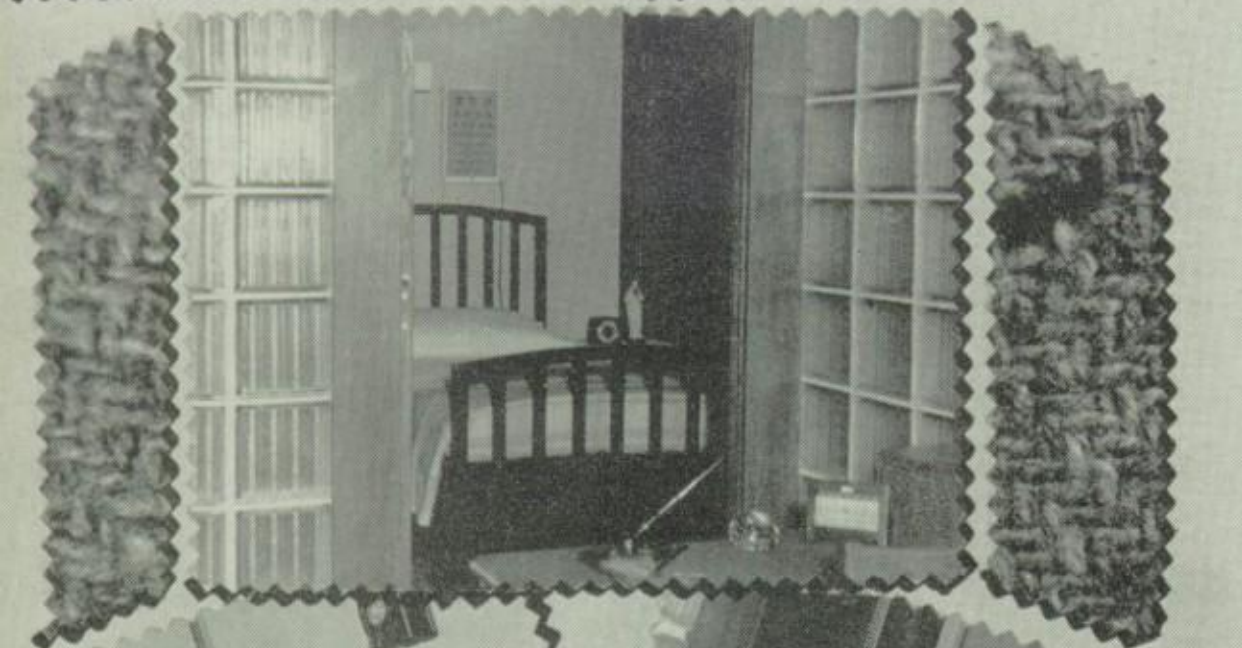

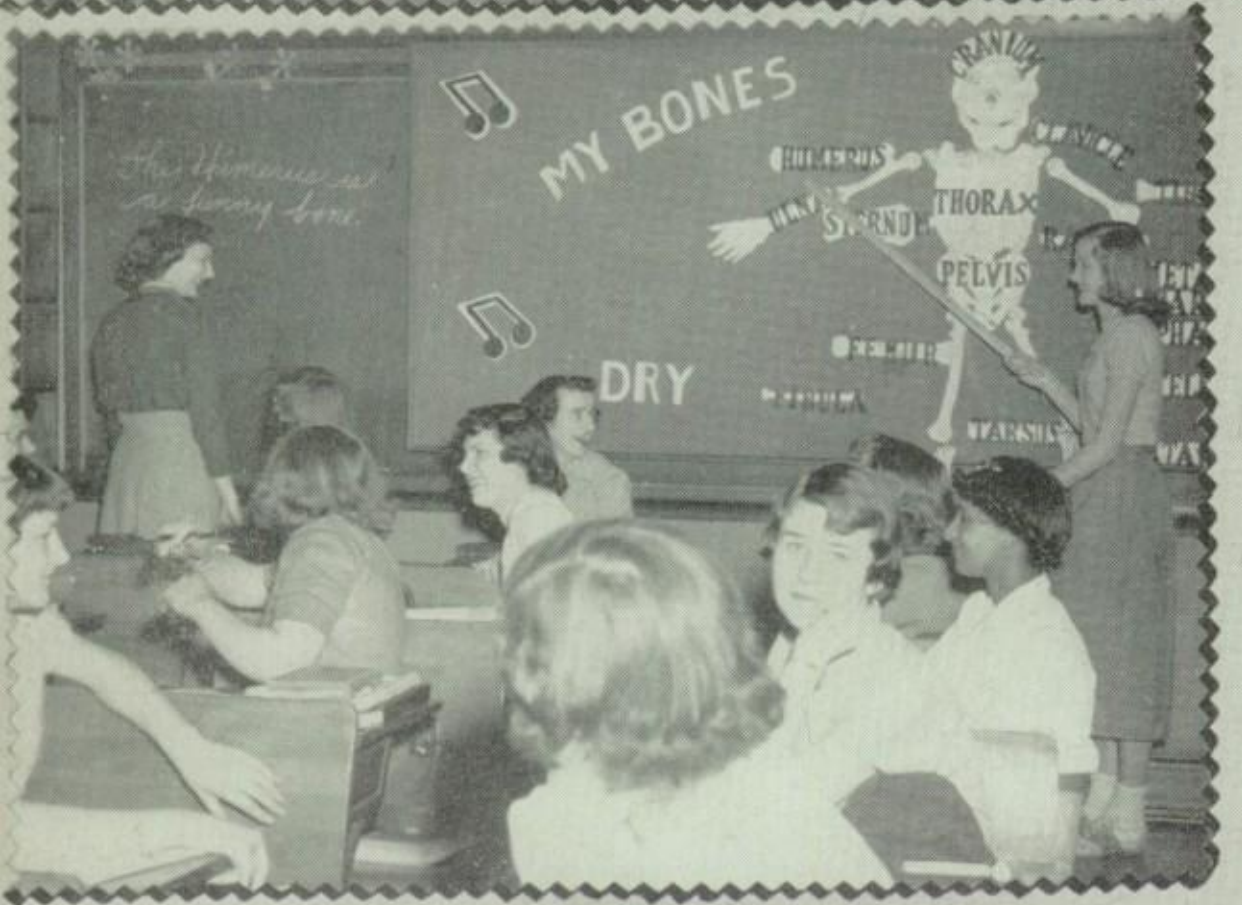

Further than this, finished problems are carried out in ceramics, wood-carving, metal-craft, model-building, and leather-crafts.

A special project undertaken by this year's class were the models of a typical Central boy and girl dressed appropriately in the school colors of scarlet and gray and respectively named Chris and Hans. Besides this the Boy's Art Department made the posters used at the Youth Pageant and entered sixty or more posters in the Mission Poster contest.

General Science

The general science course works many threads of everyday observation into the student's life. By his experiments, the student learns to realize how much value the simple things of life mean to him. In this course of general science, the student studies the air which we breathe in, the earth we walk on, the food and water we eat and drink, the stars and clouds we live under, the amazing plants that are so beautiful, the frolicking yet quiet animals which are part of his everyday life, the heat, light, electricity, and all the machinery which is so common to all. General science is a preview of, and a preparation for the loom of the great science world.

New teacher?

Physiology

Physiology is especially helpful for those who intend to become doctors, nurses, dieticians, and medical technicians. It helps to teach them the proper care of the body and to realize that they are the builders of their own physique. The goal of this subject is the establishing of better living through the formation of good health habits. Therefore, a student not only learns a description of gland muscles, bones, and tissues, not only rules of hygiene, but also reasons for health habits. Emphasis is placed on the practical application of health knowledge to better living.

Anybody you know?

Nursing

The health of the students is a most important thread in the loom of life. The school infirmary has its quarters in the new wing and is open to patients throughout the day. No matter who takes his pains, be it a headache or a pain in his finger, to this "hospital" he receives special attention and sympathy.

Not only are the aches and pains of the two thousand students taken cognizance of but a special check-up of each freshman, during that year of his schooling, is conducted by the school nurse.

The sick are well cared for.

Home Economics

Many different and amazing patterns are woven into the lives of the girls who take home economics at Central. The students learn child care, which will prove very helpful to the ones who plan for future motherhood, and a happy married life.

The threads of nutrition, clothing and good grooming, homemaking, homefurnishing, home nursing, family and social relationship, and community interests are interwoven with the art of sewing. Here the students learn to sew, not for style but for fashion. This fact develops the ability to economize and to make items of dress according to ingenuity.

Home economics is a most important thread for the students as they learn the Christian principles of the way of life as taught by Christ Our Lord, through Holy Mother the Church.

Mechanical and Civil Engineering

Without a doubt the mechanical and civil engineering department of Central Catholic High School, under the direction of Dr. G. W. E. Dunne and Fr. A. T. Schmit, offers to our Catholic student the most complete course in engineering proffered to any high school student in the country.

In the freshman year the principles of orthographic projection, surface development perspective, and descriptive geometry are taught, and mastered.

The sophomore learns the more fundamental principles of detailing and dimensioning machine parts, gearing, and cam design, together with the various functions of the slide rule.

The junior then applies all these principles to a "Project" such as an airplane, combustion engine, or other pieces of assembled machinery. This year the juniors detailed a Willy's four cylinder engine.

The senior embarks upon another phase of engineering called Civil Engineering in which subject the student learns, by actual field work, topographical surveying, and mathematical computations of elevations, theoretical problems in mining, earth-works problems, vertical and horizontal road curves, and various other types are also solved.

Who's the victim?

Mathematics

Mathematics is wanting a particular kind of knowledge or self-controlled knowledge.

In this four year course at Central, the student begins the warp of this weave by his study of general mathematics, algebra and geometry, and completes the pattern by the advancement to advanced algebra, trigonometry and solid geomeery.

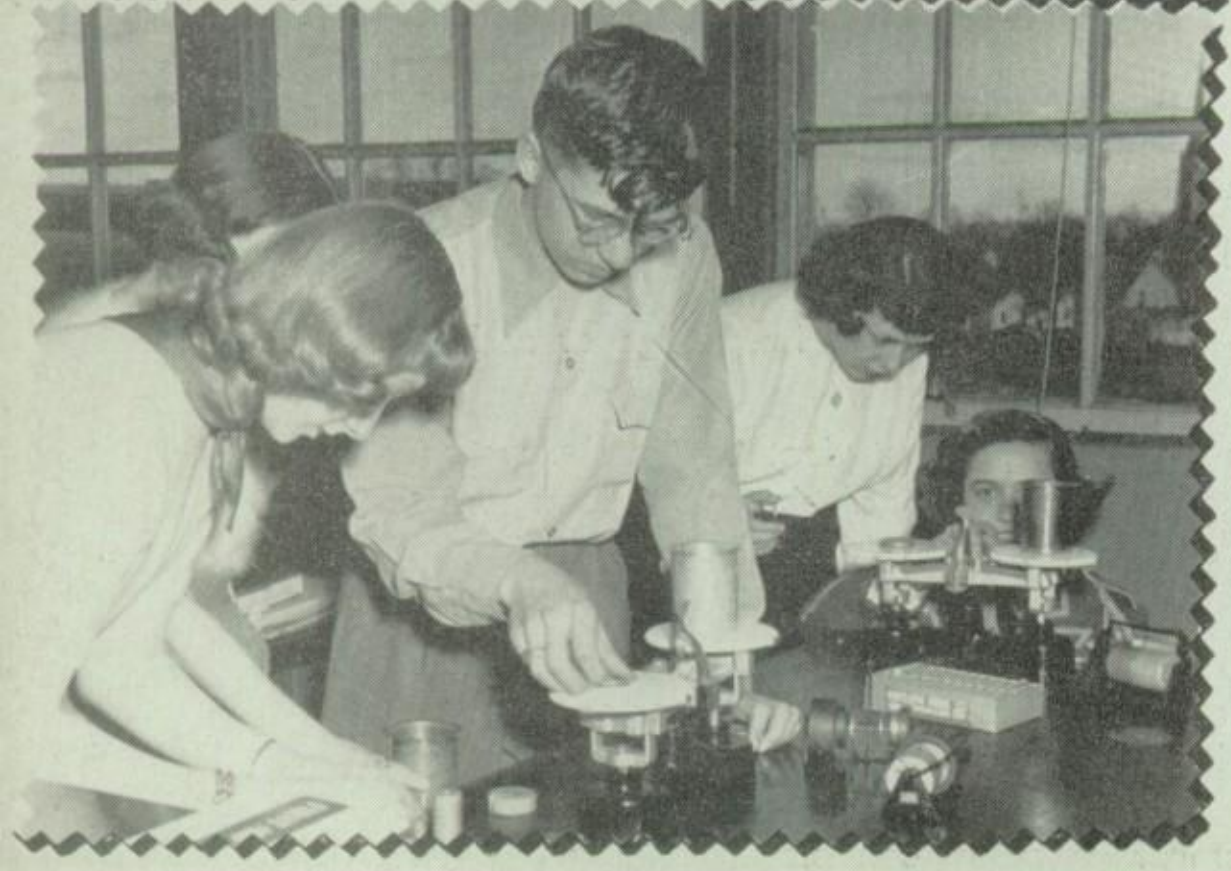

In mathematics he finds freedom, order, harmony, beauty, austerity, elegance and certainty. It teaches the systematic and unsystematic thought; the language of exact truth. It is the foundation of science, the method of thought; the invariants of human nature; the artistic delight in mathematical truth, and the problem of logical or consistant thinking.

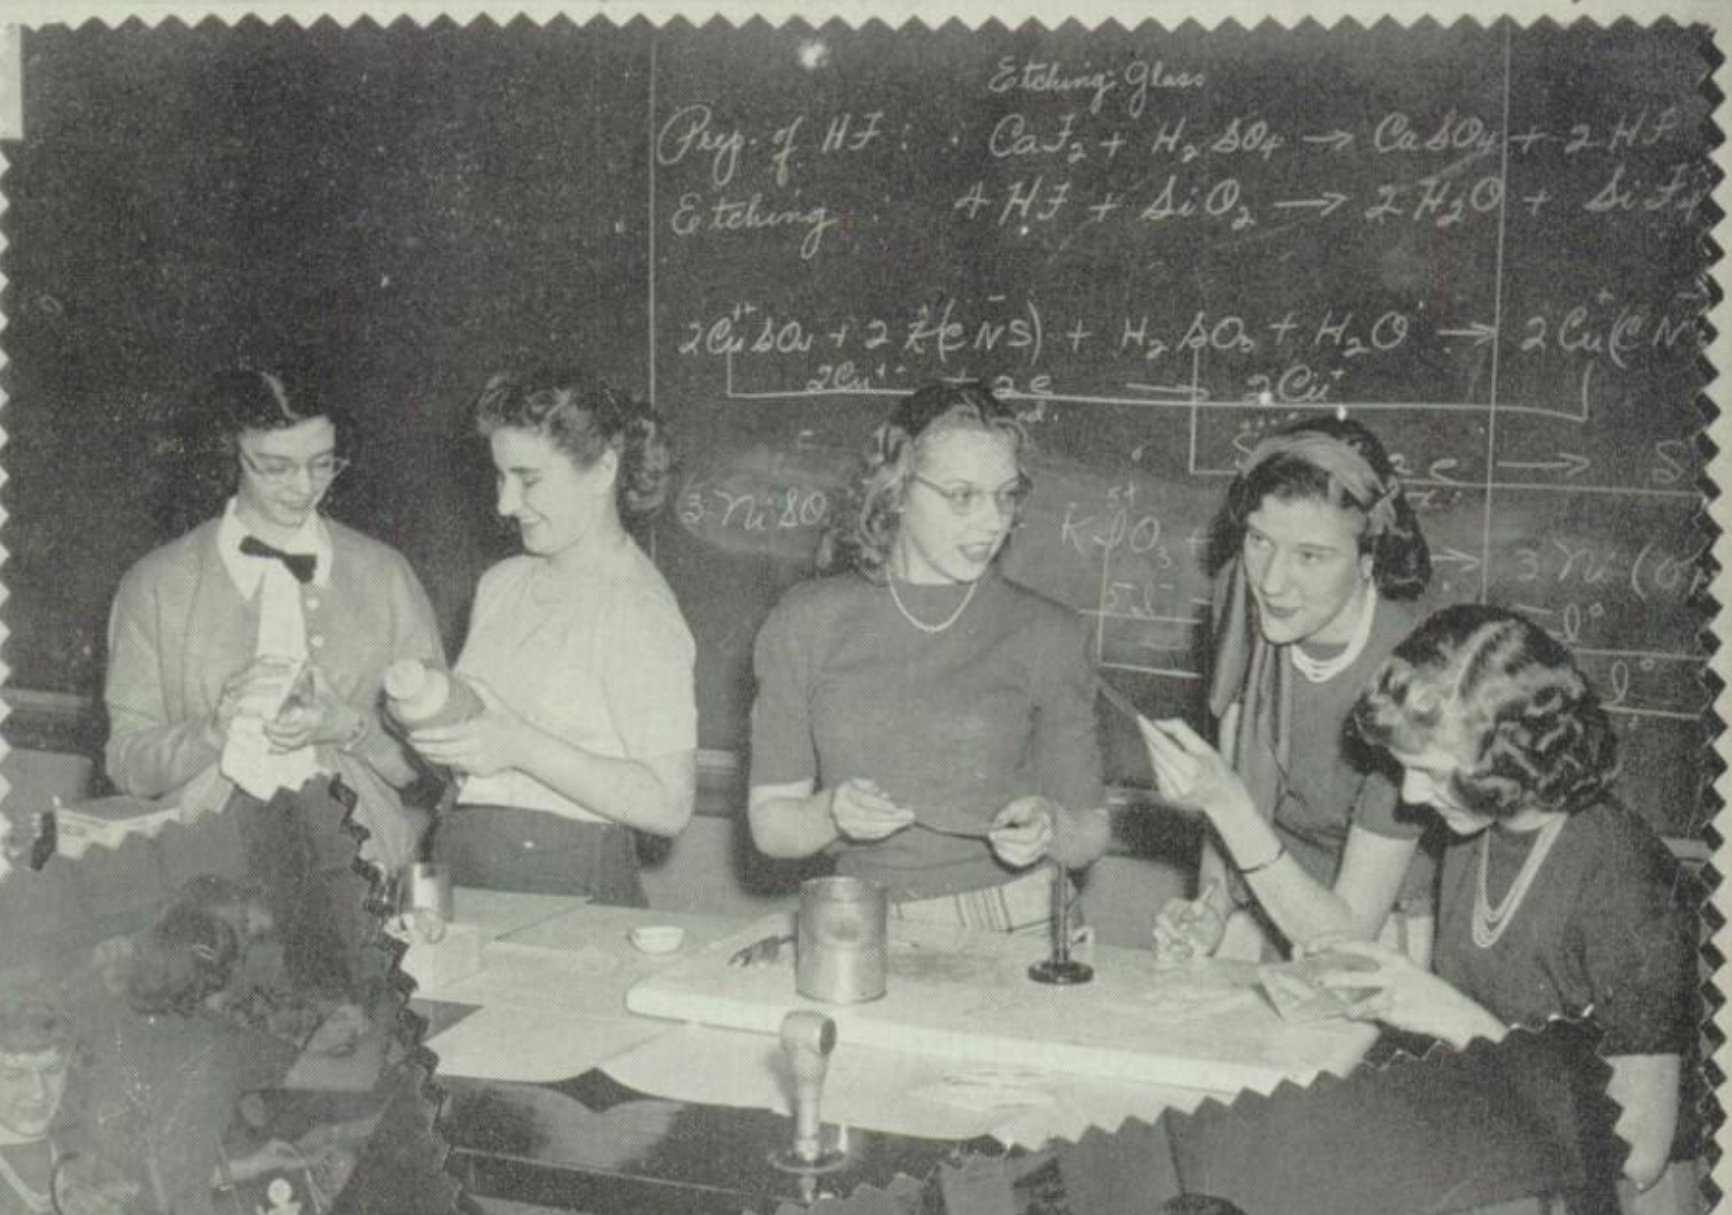

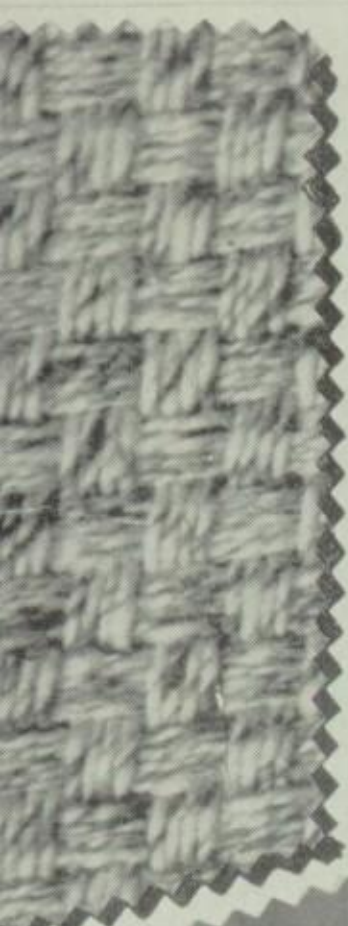

Physics

Students who weave this subject into their pattern obtain the answers to many difficult problems. This branch of learning covers laws concerning natural philosophy, together with the study of energy, sound, light, heat and electricity. By applying these laws to his life, the student may see for himself how these laws work for him. Therefore, the basis information is taught with its application.

1. Weigh it carefully.
2. Aye, aye, sir.
3. Don't spill it.
4. Does it check?

Chemistry

In weaving the plaid of Science, Chemistry seems to stand out as the big check or the dominant color. It is the prime factor, especially in this modern world where we are faced with atomic energy and more recently the power of hydrogen.

In studying Chemistry, emphasis is placed on the scientific method which stresses experimentation, which more easily enables us to comprehend the different phases of organic and inorganic chemistry as well as the fundamentals of the elements.

This interesting subject is a must in weaving the design of life for a doctor, nurse, engineer, and many others entering the scientific field.

Commercial

The commercial department weaves many threads together in order to help the student take his place in the business world.

Office Practice gives training in the methods and skills of handling mail, using the ediphone, electric typewriter, listing machine, preparing office books, sending telegrams, radiograms, and cablegrams.

In the bookkeeping classes the students are taught the fundamentals of accounting, together with various duties required by the business world.

The first and second year typing students are taught speed with accuracy as the most important thread.

The shorthand students must learn to be rapid in reading and transcribing, with 100-word transcription tests as their final goal.

Economic geography, civics, and commercial law are also important subjects which are taught in this department. In these, study is given to the geographical world, current events, and legal cases and problems, which help the student to acquire fundamental principles and attitudes and enable him to form accurate and correct judgment.

Biology

Biology, as offered at Central Catholic High school, is taught with the aim of supplying the student with the Christian principles of a scientific, cultural, and practical analysis of life.

In this field of science, by careful experiments and observations, the student learns what makes all living creatures function. The student studies the different stages in the development of plant, animal, and human life.

Organizations

The various organizations open to the students opportunities for responsibility and leadership. Participation, therein, tends to show the strength or weakness of the fibers of the patterns they have woven.

The STUDENT SPIRITUAL COUNCIL is the most important of all extra curricular activities because it is the organization which unites the material activity with the religious. Its aim is to enable the students to weave the correct designs into their patterns. The Various committees which combine to form the Council hold forth to all the students the threads that will fashion the design and give warmth to its texture.

Members of the organization may select threads from any of the committees—the Saint John Berchmans, the Eucharistic-Marian, the Literature Committee, the Apostolic Committee or the Saint Hilda Guild.

The EUCCHARISTIC-MARIAN committee weaves into the school life by means of posters and student talks, such spiritual activities as the recitation of the rosary during October and May, frequent attendance at Mass, daily visits and the crowning of Our Blessed Mother, Queen of Central, at the May Convocation.

Bottom: R. Pierce, M. T. Holt, P. Spinazze, F. Parker

The APOSTOLIC COMMITTEE is well named. Great interest in mission work is promoted and supported throughout the school, Christmas cards and seals are sold, pagan babies ransomed, and the Lenten Drive sponsored by these zealous Apostles of Central's Mission Band.

The SAINT JOHN BERCHEMANS society, which has been in existence at Central for fourteen years, gives the acolytes the opportunity to serve Mass and Benediction at Central throughout the year. Its main purpose is to promote religious vocations. This organization, together with the Eucharistic-Marian group, sponsors the annual May Convocation.

W. LaFayette, F. Miller, L. Blank.

Members of the LITERATURE COMMITTEE aim to interest the student body in good books and magazines. Their work is not confined to the school library. They have undertaken, with the aid of the Toledo druggists, the task of ridding from the shelves and racks the indecent literature which is cluttering up the drug stores.

To guide the student in the choice of a career—through Career Day—was the well-developed aim of the Young Christian Students. This organization was headed by Albert Wittman and Jeanne Oswald, with Fr. Bernard Wetzel, OSFS, and Sister Mary Herman, SND, as moderators. The organization has grown in size and functions under the Cell Technique. It also has distributed teams operating throughout the school. Its noteworthy activities have won the admiration of the faculty and the student body.

Generally speaking, no one knows better what the student wants than the student. The Student Council, the representative body of the school, consists of students approved by the faculty and elected by fellow members. In this group the presidents of all school organizations, a representative from each conference room and all class officers are brought together to work out the welfare of the student body.

This Group sponsors many school activities including tag day and the dance connected with it, the talent assembly, color day and various other dances held on special occasions. This organization is affiliated with the Toledo District Student Council.

The entire Council is under the direction of Father Shenk and Sister M. De Paul, SND. Its purpose is to promote cooperation between the students and the faculty in solving the problems confronting the school.

The Pot-O-Gold or Magazine Drive, first of its kind at Central, was sponsored by the Student Council.

The CAMERA CLUB opened its fourth year of operation last October. Under the leadership of their officers the members planned a busy year. Meetings were held in room 4 and the foyer outside that room was used as a place for exhibits. The exhibit committee obtained films from the Eastman Kodak Company and sponsored a showing of the prize winning pictures of the 1949 National High School Photograph Contest.

The DRAMATIC CLUB, since its revival a year ago, has enlarged its program to include a one act play, several assembly programs, the Senior Play, and this year received high commendation in a contest at Bowling Green State University. The Delsartians, under the direction of Miss Elizabeth Schultz, teacher of Public Speaking, has as its purpose the installation of a deeper love of the drama in its members and students.

The BI-PHY-CHEM club was organized to assist its members (1) in increasing their knowledge of science; (2) in learning the perfect skills in science; (3) in giving service to the community; (4) in developing their talents and aptitudes.

The following officers directed the activities of the year: Margaret Volz, president; Robert Zraik, vice president; Donald Nagel, secretary; Charles Resch, treasurer.

The AL-GEO-TRIG is the stimulus used by the Math classes to interest students in the study of mathematics. This four page paper is edited and published by a staff selected from the seniors majoring in the subject. They in turn, under the direction of a faculty advisor, and with the aid of underclass students, do the research and writing required in the process of publishing.

The work of the LIBRARY CLUB is interesting, enjoyable and exacting. Interesting because it gives the members an opportunity to peruse and be informed on worthwhile books and magazines. It becomes enjoyable when the student body seek help from the group and exacting when the tabulating that library work requires must be attended.

To help students to listen intelligently, to grow in knowledge about composers, performers, instruments, and types of voices, and to establish historical connections between the music of various periods, a course in Music Appreciation was added to the second semester schedule.

Orchestra

The orchestra gave many pleasant hours of enjoyment to the student body. When the school play, "Remember the Day," was dramatized the Orchestra helped with its success and during the three nights' presentation of "Sweethearts" at the State Theater this organization took an active part in making both events successful.

Band

This year the Band provided entertainment at all football and basketball games. At various pep rallies, the May Convocation and special city exhibitions, such as Armistice Day and Memorial Day parades, this group takes an active part.

They labor many hours practicing songs and formations not only in the music building, but also on the campus during and after school hours.

'Remember the Day'

Under the direction of Miss Elizabeth Schultz, dramatic director, the senior class presented "Remember the Day". The three act comedy, written by P. Higley and P. Dunning, was enacted on the evenings of November 18, 19, 20, and 21, in Central's Auditorium.

The story of Dewey Roberts' love for his teacher, Miss Trinell; the disillusionment he feels when he discovers she is in love with Dan Hopkins, the school's athletic coach; the anxiety of his parents, his schoolmates and friends, was vividly portrayed by the following cast:

1st Bell-boy	Donald Clifford
Nora Trinell	Mary Dancoes
Flower Girl	Maureen Poss
2nd Bell-boy	Dale Hertzfeld
Reporter	Charles Brooks
Dewey Roberts	Karl Bires
Kate Hill	Nancy Hagen

'Sweethearts'

The Glee Club's presentation of "Sweethearts", Victor Herbert's two act comedy, was verily one of Central's greatest productions. "A top notch group of soloists, a fine orchestra, a capable and enthusiastic chorus," as Mr. Cucci, their director, rated them, produced a superb operetta.

The story hinges on the abandonment of an infant girl, (Crown Princess of Zilania) who is adopted and reared by Dame Paula, (owner of the White Geese Laundry) with her own six daughters. Enmeshed in political plot, loved by Prince Franz, heir presumptive to the throne of Zilania; she is, after much intrigue, restored to her rightful position by Dame Paula who identifies her as the lost princess of Zilania.

Library's new reference department receives work-out on first day of opening. Committees meet and receive instructions in various duties for year.

The Library

The building of the new wing at Central did not move the Library to a new location but expanded the old one. This expansion made it possible to house more famous fiction, varied biography, books of science, religion, travel, drama, and poetry to tie up with the student's work.

Besides having all these books at hand the students are taught how to use the card catalogue, the encyclopedias, and the readers' guides.

The Library, the center of material for the Juniors' essays, extends not only aid in preparing the next day's classes, but also offers relaxation and enjoyment for the leisure moments.

Sports

The sport section depicts the effect produced on the pattern when curricular and extra-curricular activities are interwoven. Tolerance, forbearance and sportsmanship add strength to the designs.

Football

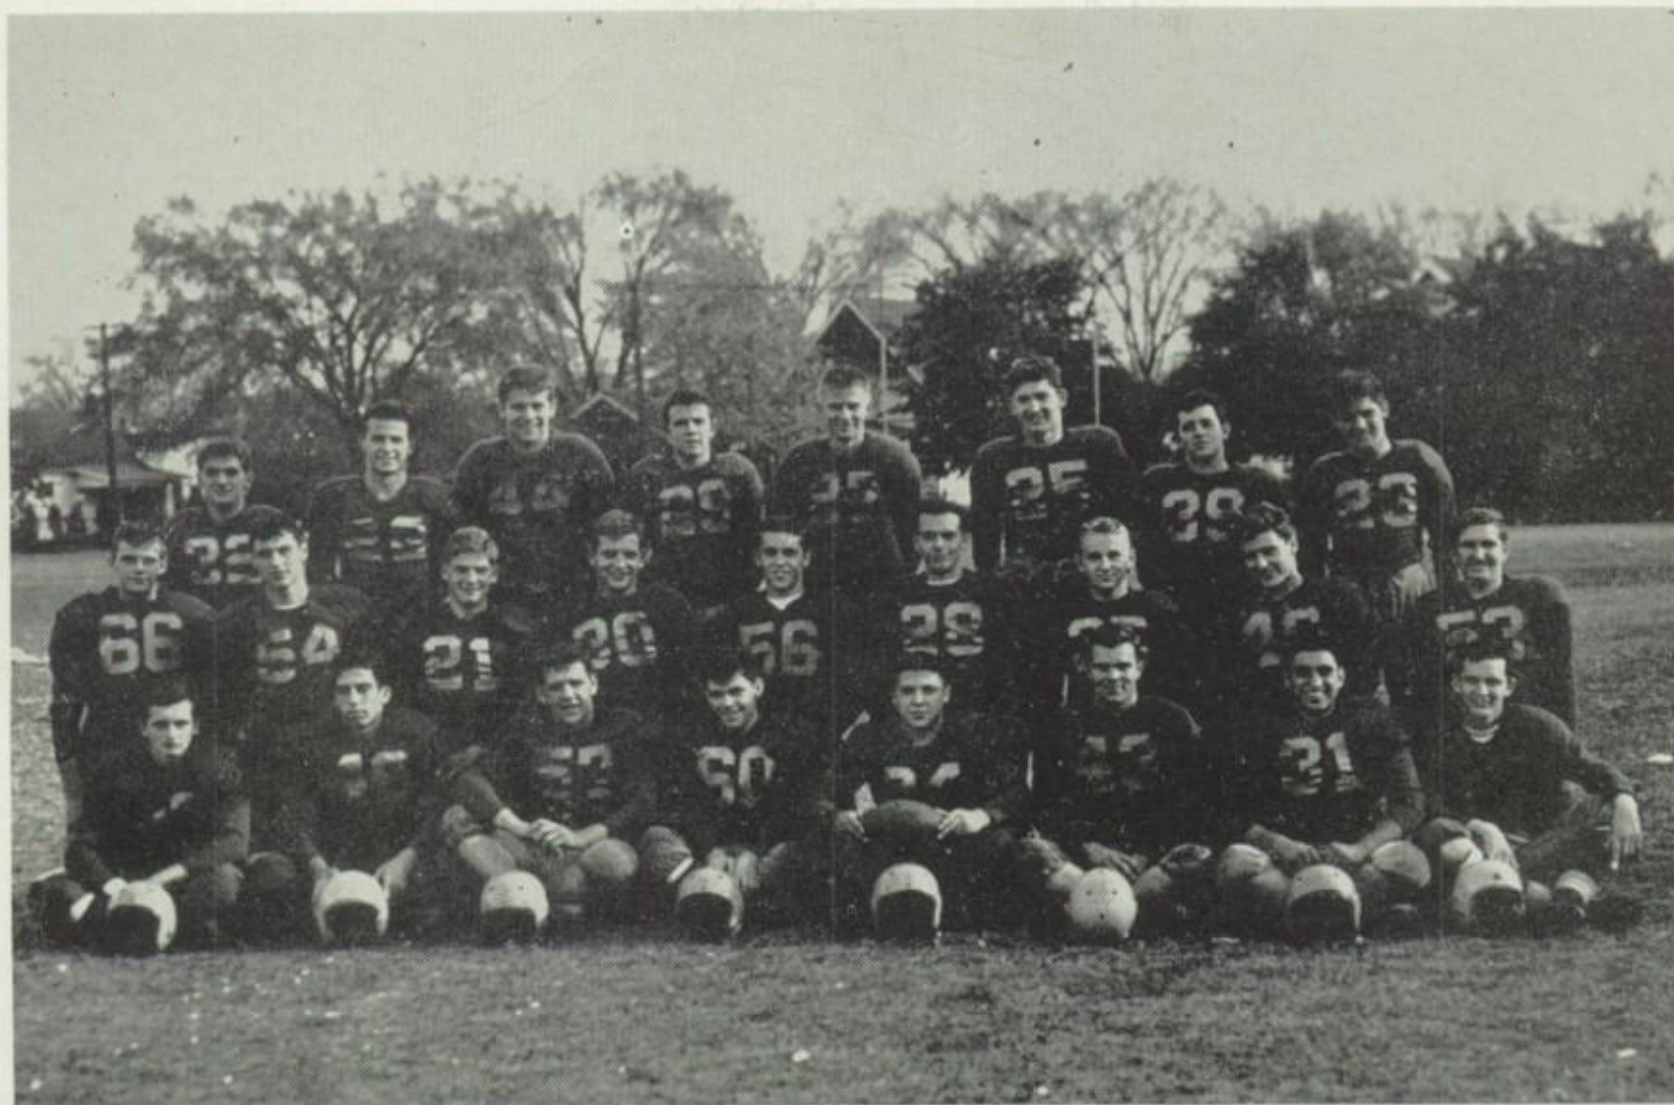

Ken Brown and Bill Crippen pilot Coach McCarty in the victory march after the Waite game.

When Coach McCarty came to Central in 1947 he predicted that in three years the Irish Gridders would have a football championship and they also would beat Waite. This season was the third year and last year in which he could fulfill this prophecy—and fulfill he did. Besides this football crown, since he has been athletic director, the Irish have won championships in basketball, baseball, bowling, cross country and golf. Mr. McCarty has not been content with just developing talent after the students come to Central but he helped them while they were still in grade schools. His success at bringing talent to Central has been proved many times as the Freshman and Lightweight teams have consistently won championships in their leagues.

THOMAS (TOM) McHUGH

When a few yards were needed this big, burly fullback was always around to do the job. "Olaf" made the ALL STATE TEAM.

WALTER (WALT) RAFTERY

Walt was the safety man on this year's team because of his speed in returning punts. When the going got rough he filled in at guard on defense.

DANIEL (DAN) FARBROTHER

Though only a junior, Dan's outstanding play in the line earned him a position on the All City Team.

WILLIAM (BILL) LA FAYETTE

Bill's long arms and big hands made it tough for opposing players to crash his tackle position.

JOSEPH (JOE) MOUCH

Though only a sophomore, Joe showed the speed and drive that are characteristic of great backfield men.

ROBERT (BOB) CAPUTO

This rangy end could always be counted on to snag passes and to take out the opponents' interference.

IGNATIUS (NATE) DARR

Playing his first year for Central, Nate, a senior, was a real asset with his vicious tackling and blocking.

GEORGE (GEORGE) DONAHUE

This speedy end, the squad's number one pass receiver, had the distinction of being placed on the All City Team.

JOHN (JOHN) SULLIVAN

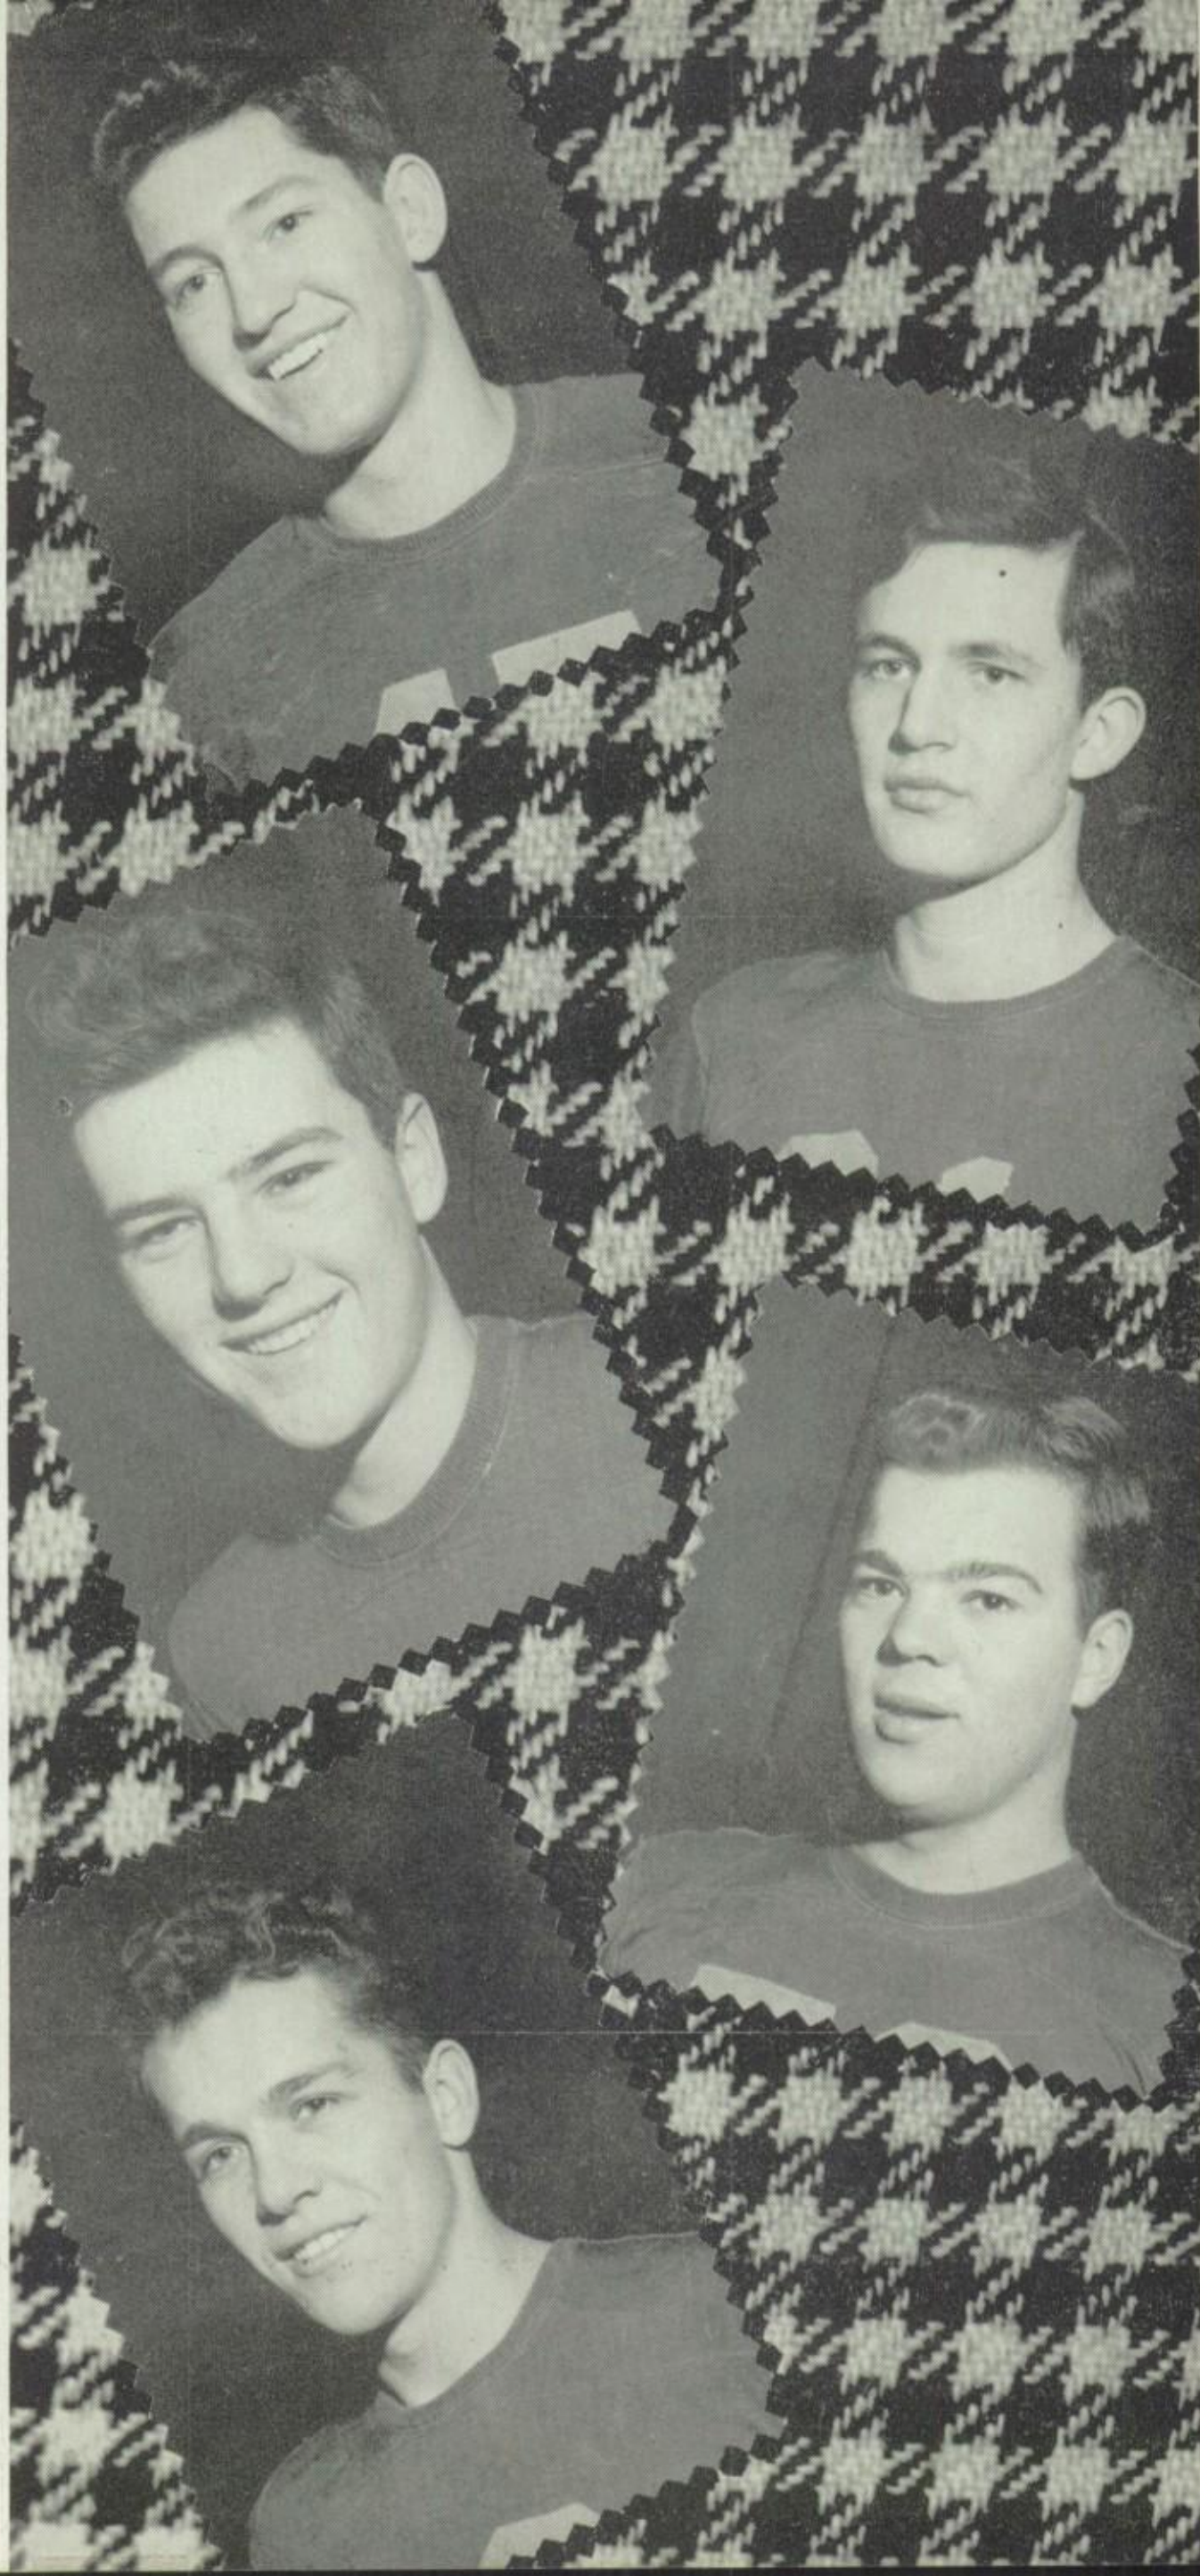

A true fighting Irishman, John's power and drive at fullback were always good for a couple yards.

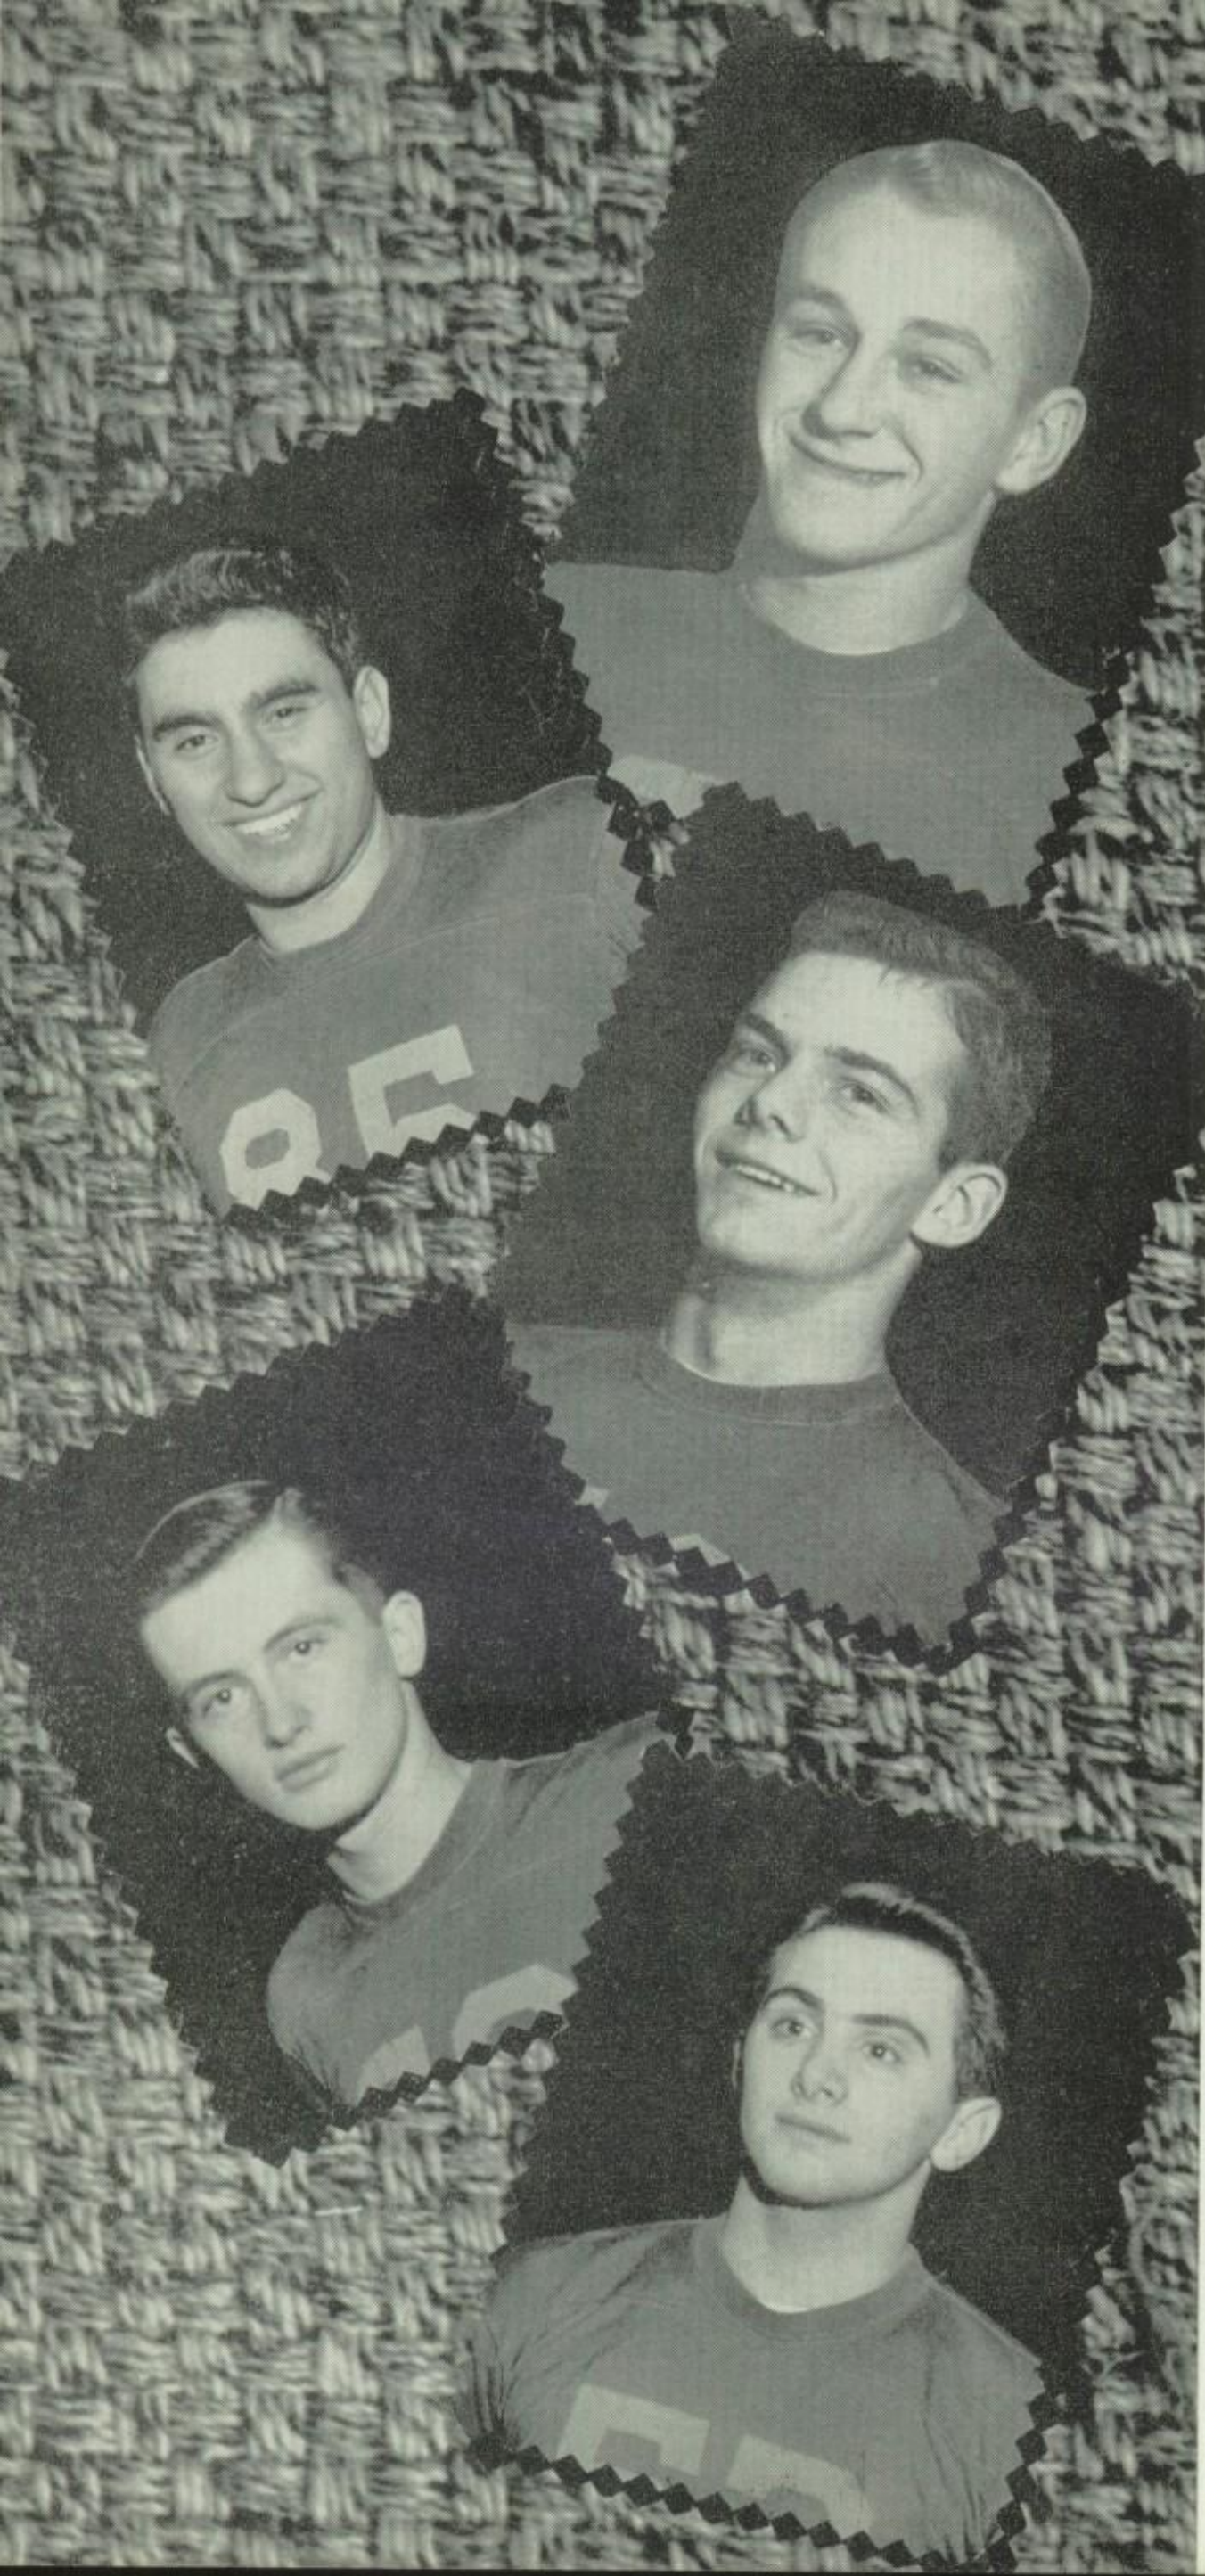

KENNETH (KEN) BROWN

Switching Kenny from the backfield to the line was a wise move as his vicious tackling and blocking proved.

THOMAS (TOM) ARMÁN

A real battler, Tom was great at giving opposing players a tough time with his defensive work.

ARNOLD (ARNIE) LUDWIG

Two more seasons of rugged play can be expected from Arnie, a promising tackle who played well on defense.

JOHN (JOHN) INCORVAIA

Johnny is another of the big, tough linemen who played well this year and will be on hand next season.

WILLIAM (BILL) CRIPPEN

Bill played rough at both tackle and end. Not a talkative guy, he let his playing speak for him.

JOSEPH (JOE) HANLEY

At quarterback slot Joe did a fine job of directing the team on offensive as well as doing his share on defense.

DONALD (DON) LUPICA

Don was forced to sit out most of the season with a shoulder injury but this flashy back should strengthen next year's team.

RICHARD (DICK) HOPPE

Dick was a fast powerful back who proved to be quite a problem for opposing tacklers in a broken field.

JAMES (JIM) REEVES

Becoming eligible after the fourth game, Jim's accurate centering and rough line backing greatly strengthened the Irish attack.

ROBERT (BOB) BIALORUCKI

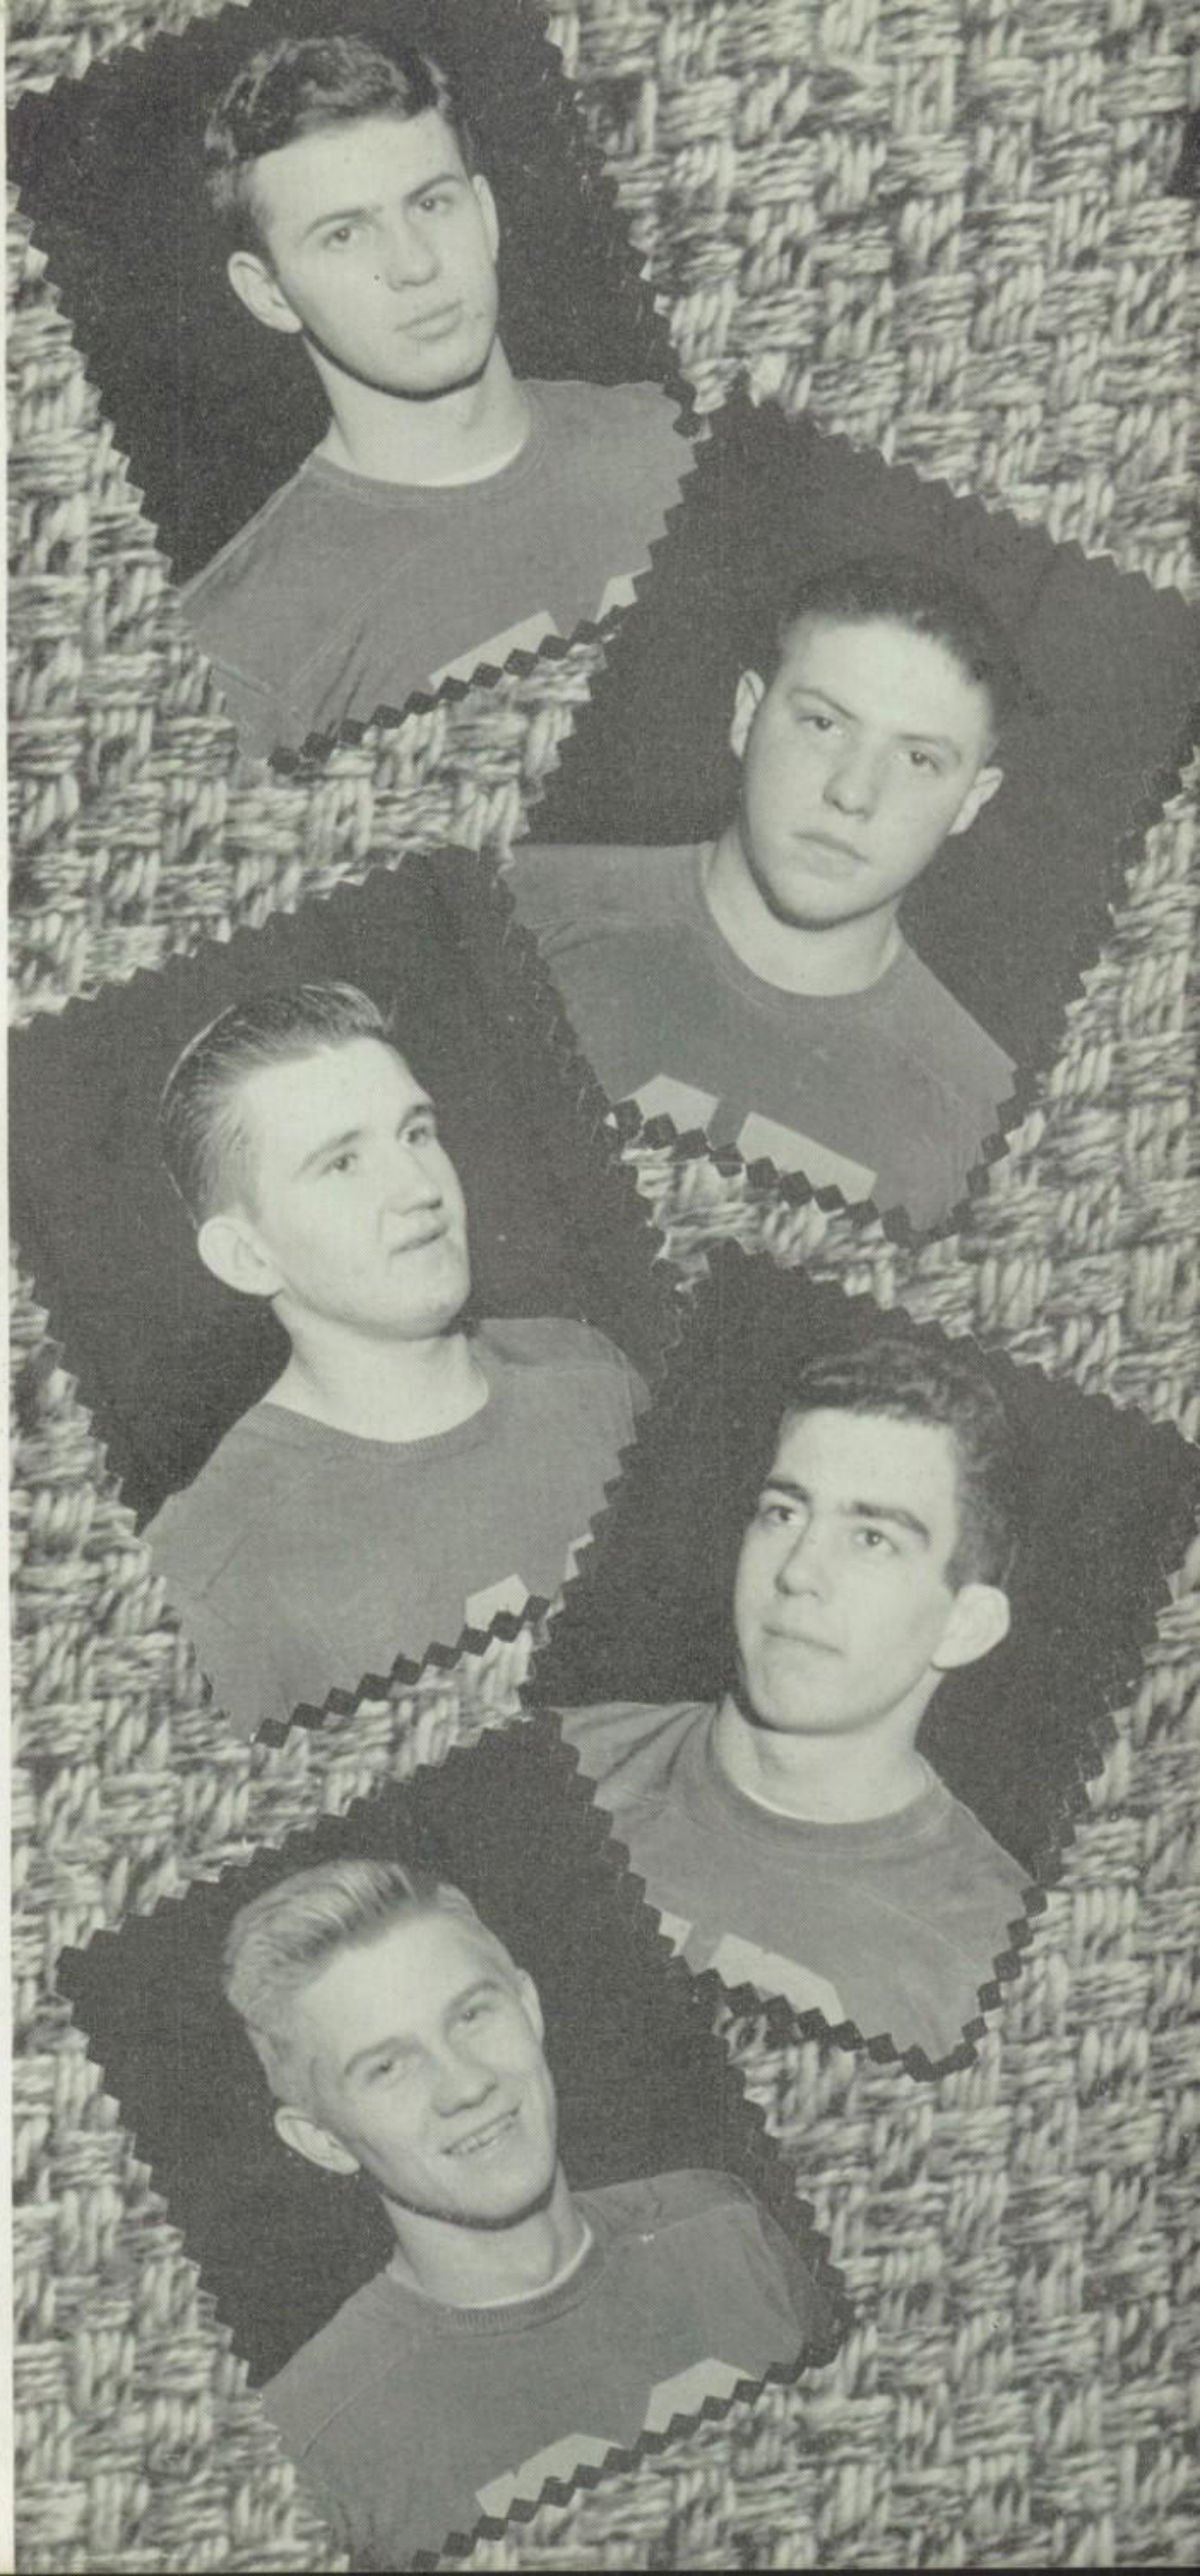

"Tweets" showed great ability and plenty of fighting Irish spirit in his stalwart line play.

BERNARD (BERNIE) CLINKER

Bernie gave everything he had (even his teeth) playing end. Here's hoping he does as well at quarterback next year.

ARNOLD (ARNIE) DZIENNY

Arnie was the short side line backer; he let opposing runners know he was there by his rough tackles.

Lightweight Team

Row 4: Coach Kurzynske, (A. Wandtke, P. Temple, D. Snyder, Mgrs.) E. Gliatti, J. Holmes.

Row 3: J. Petsche, D. Keller, J. Selz, H. Sahadi, B. Dahme, L. Donofrio.

Row 2: D. Hanley, D. McGranahan, R. James, D. O'Shea, J. Torte, M. McMonagle.

Row 1: J. Rahman, J. Bettinger, J. McAlear, R. Cousino, R. Strutner, W. Cassidy, V. Sodd.

Coach Kurzynske who stands 6 feet, 4 inches tall and weighs 202 pounds, was graduated from Fond du Lac High School, Fond du Lac, Wisconsin, in 1945. He enrolled at Notre Dame University the next year, graduating in 1949 with a Bachelor of Science Degree.

Since his arrival at Central in the fall of 1949 he has coached the lightweight basketball and football teams. The football squad ended the season with one win and three losses. The basketball team won the city championship with a 17 to 1 record.

Coach Kurzynske

Freshman Team

Coach O'Rourke

Coach Paul O'Rourke completed his third season as freshman football coach with success. In his previous years his teams captured the freshman title twice; this year the "Baby-Irish" were tied for second place.

Mr. O'Rourke also coached the freshman basketball team and his labors proved fruitful in this field as well. His squad, with a 10 win - 2 loss record, captured the championship.

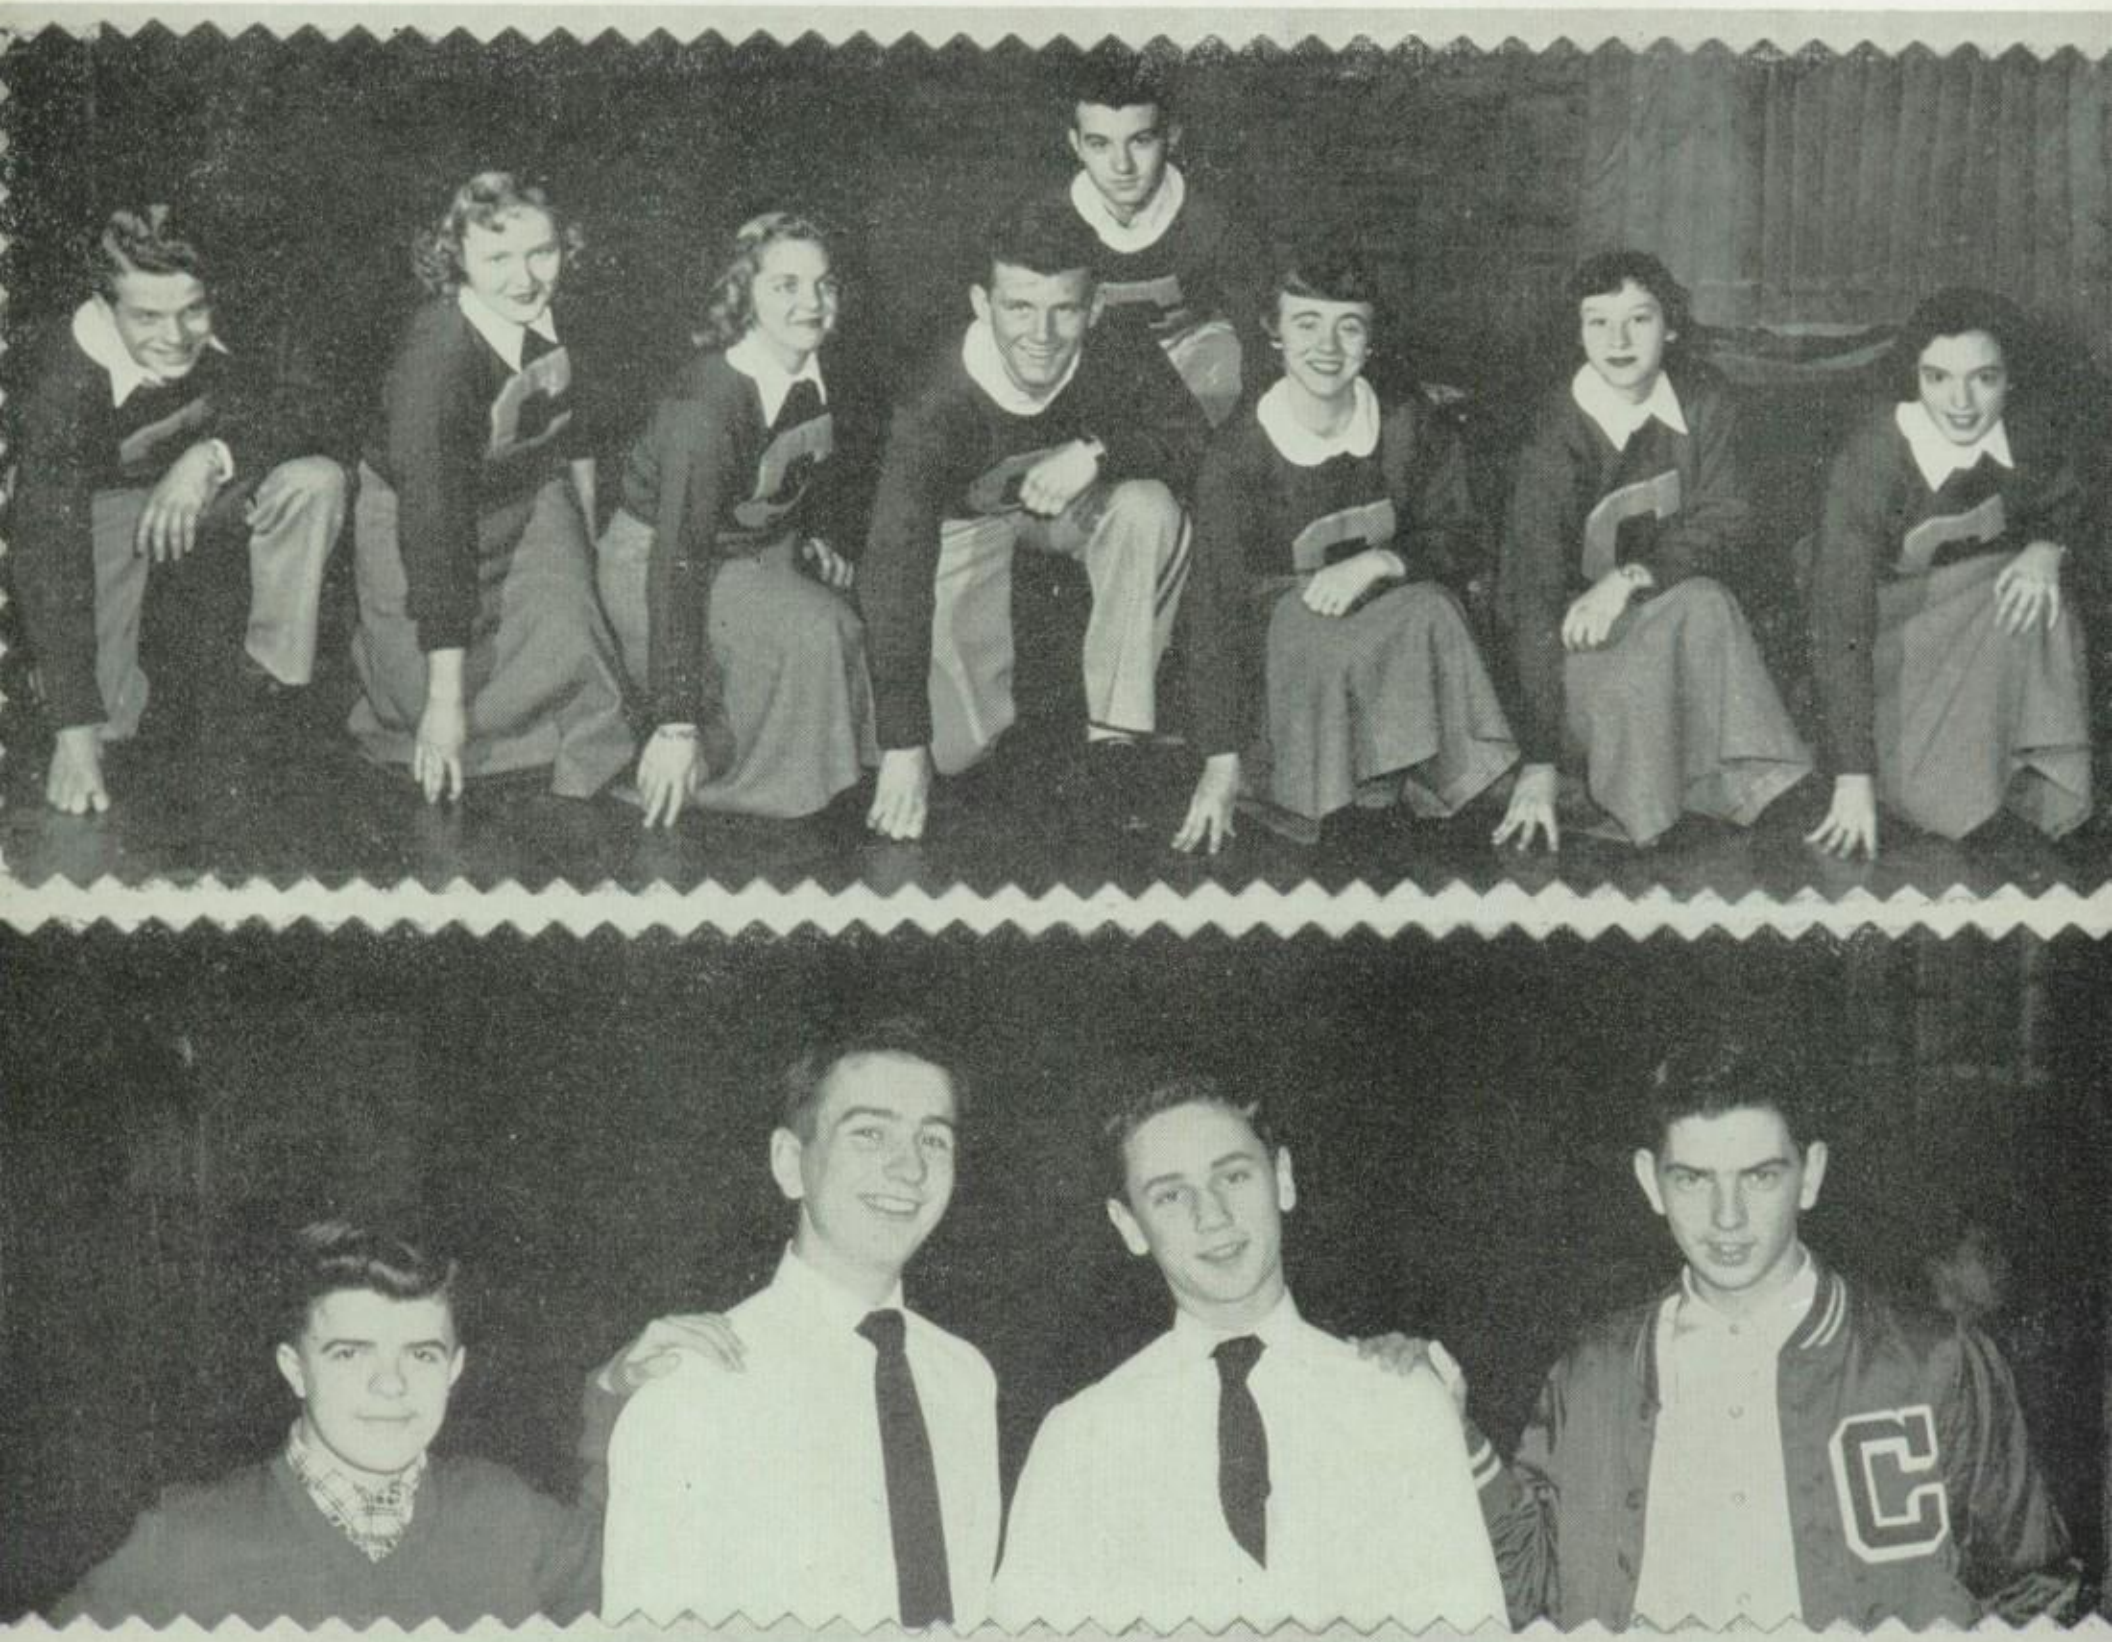

First: V. Siwa, L. Seidel, W. Schroeder, R. Toda, W. Romstadt, L. Moore, J. Schmidt, A. Engelhardt.

Second: J. Manley, J. Parker, J. Areddy, N. Huston, R. Karszewski, J. Dressel, R. Cooly, D. Doherty, R. Przybylek.

Third: Coach O'Rourke, M. Kromenacker, J. Hunter, J. Heintschel, J. Russell, T. Csizek, J. Amsted, J. Yamber.

Fourth: D. Snyder, P. Temple, A. Wandtke, (Mgrs.) J. Rahman, T. Wiegand, A. Weckle, D. Nastachowski.

Cheerleaders and Managers

Cheerleaders: James Hite, Kathryn Faber, Florence LaPorte, Robert Kellogg, Joseph Bauer, Nancy Heintz, Eleanor Kovar, Mary Ballance.

Managers: P. Temple, M. Lynch, C. Murawa, J. Mohr.

Every athletic association has a core of "behind the scene" workers better known as the Cheerleaders and Managers.

The checking and upkeep of the athletic equipment and locker rooms are entrusted to the managers. Though their work is often unsung, it is upon them that the efficiency of an athletic loom depends.

At every game, in the front stands, it's the "Team, Rah!" call of the cheerleaders that starts the vim and vigor of the game. They instill into the crowd the spirit to win. They are the sideline backfields that lend the moral support that often leads to victory.

Basketball

Coach Bondy

For the last four years Central has been a big power in basketball. Her position has been accomplished mostly through the efforts of Coach "Larry Bondy," a small statured man who never played varsity ball.

Coach Bondy has compiled, throughout the past four seasons, a record of 120 wins against 15 losses. His teams have never placed lower than second place in league competition and his fast breaking squads are known for being the highest scoring ever to hit Toledo.

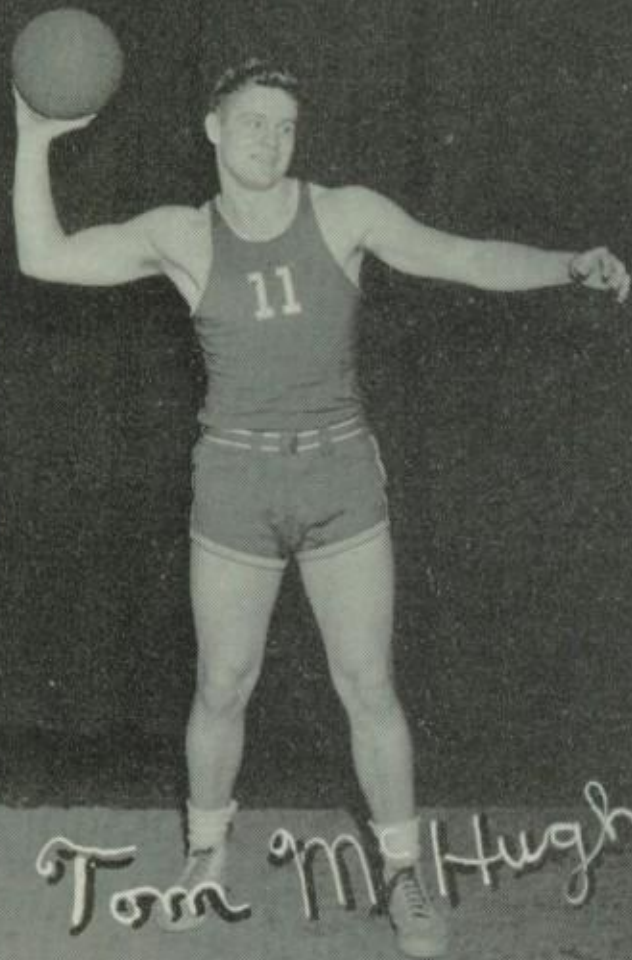

This year Mr. Bondy ran into trouble when several of his key players were forced out, during most of the season with injuries. Nevertheless he and his men took second place in the city.

The basketball team, playing the role of defending city champs, started the season in fine shape winning the first seven games. Then misfortune hit the fastbreaking Irish. Donoher injured his knee forcing him to the sidelines for most of the season. Later Felix was put on the injured list—a chipped elbow. Coach Bondy tried many combinations of players to fill in for his maimed stars but he couldn't find one that could consistently hit. They ended the season favorably, however, winning 17 and losing only 5.

The team won a tie for second place in city league play and reached the district finals in the State tournament.

The 1950 Irish Diamond Team, composed of seven lettermen from the championship team of '49, Dick Hoppe, Jim Desmond, Don Leyman, Jim McAlear, Walt Raftery, John De Lucia and Emil Zedlitz, started off on the wrong foot on account of injuries. When Jim Desmond, who received a broken leg in a CYO basketball game, returned, after missing the first two games, Walt Raftery, a hard-working third baseman, was laid up for the remainder of the season by an automobile accident.

As the Centripetal goes to press the team has won three and lost three, including the tournament play in which they lost a 3-2 decision to the Macomber squad. This eliminated them from State play. The McCartymen had victories over Scott, Waite and Montpelier, with four games to go at writing.

Under the supervision of Miss Joan Leonhardt and Mrs. Jean Whately the Girls' Athletic League had an active year.

The social program included: election of officers, freshman initiation, splash party, a swimming meet with Notre Dame girls, and the annual Senior farewell and awards banquet.

Coach J. Whately

The regular indoor school program throughout the year included basketball, volleyball, table tennis, shuffleboard, darts, square and modern dancing; the outdoor program provided, in the spring, archery and softball; in the fall, speedball and soccer held sway.

Bowling, after school, started in the fall. Twenty teams entered the field; the 48'ers finished in first place.
